CHITA ENDS SWAY; HANDS OVER RULE TO THE SOVIET

Far Eastern Republic Dissolved By Vote Of Assembly

ACHIEVED AIM

Departure Of Japanese Ends Need For The Buffer State

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Chita, Nov. 16.—The Chita Assembly has passed a resolution, abolishing the Far Eastern Republic and handing over to Moscow the control of the whole territory which will henceforth form a part of Soviet Russia.

ATTITUDE OF PEOPLE

(Rosta News Agency)

Chita, Nov. 12.—The popular demand for unification of the Far Eastern Republic with Soviet Russia is growing among the entire population of the Far Eastern Republic. As the following reports show, the demand is based on these grounds: First, the Far Eastern Republic was created two and a half years ago for safeguarding the interests of Russia from foreign agression. Now that there is not a single armed foreigner on Russian mainland since the evacuation of Japanese troops from Siberia, the Far Eastern Republic has served its purpose and achieved its aim.

Second, the Far Eastern Republic is part of Russia and its population part of the Russian people, and as it is now free from White Guards, it shall re-enter into the fold of Russia and its population shall be re-united with the Russian people. When unification is achieved, the Russian Socialist Federal Soviet Republic shall exercise its authority over the entire Russian territory from Europe in the west to the Pacific in the east.

DEMAND IS VOICED

The President of the Government of the Far Eastern Republic has received from twenty-three members of the national People's Assembly (equivalent to Parliament) a petition, which besides congratulating the President on the fifth anniversary of the Russian Revolution on behalf of the people of the Maritime, Priamur and Amur provinces, expresses its hope that the artificial barrier between the Far Eastern Republic and Russia shall be removed and that the aspirations of the people shall be realised.

The Far Eastern Bureau of the Commonist Party, the Government of the Far Eastern Republic, the People's Assembly and the Trans-Baikalian Trade unions have received circulars stating that the working class was forced by international conditions to create a buffer state, that it must now be removed with the growing authority of the Soviet Power, that it must now be reunited with Soviet Russia by an immediate establishment of local Soviets (councils) of workmen, peasants and soldiers.

To be re-united with Russia, the workmen, peasants and soldiers are organising local Soviet of Deputies and provincial Soviets in accordance with the system in Soviet Russia. On the 5th instant the election of the Soviet of Deputies was carried out in all professional organisations of Vladivostok. The Soviet held its first session on the following day, celebrating the fifth anniversary of the Russian revolution.

CHITA REVOLUTION

The Chita population has passed this resolution: "We, workingmen and women and soldiers remind the Government and the Provincial Administration that we created them as a means of struggle with our enemies for the Soviet authority. Now, that the workmen of the Russian Far East can breath the air of freedom since the departure of the last interveners, we demand that full authority be turned over to the Soviets. We demand the Provincial Revolutionary Committee immediately take upon itself the organisation of Soviets in the Trans-Baikalia. Let the joyous news reach all those humiliated and oppressed that the proletariat of the Russian Far East after four years' bloody fight has regained liberty. Let this message bring them hope in their struggle for liberty and the power of Soviets."

Smiles From The Mixed Court

Zung Foh-kwung is a sort of an Oriental Einstein in his way. At any rate he had developed an interesting theory of relativity as applied to ethics, more particularly the duties of debtor and creditor. The trouble with Zung's theory was that it fooled nobody but himself and yesterday in the Mixed Court it ran badly afoul of the more generally accepted code of the Municipality and was relegated, badly tattered, to the limbo of exploded systems. Incidentally it took Zung also into oblivion for a thirty-day period.

The epilogue to Zung's appearance in the dock was provided by Zung Chiang-li—not related to the defendant. The witness stated that he was in the business of hiring out ricshas. On Thursday he had on hand a vehicle for which he had no license, so he parked it in the alleyway off Markham Road on which his home abuts. Shortly afterward he discovered the prisoner busily at work stripping the tires from the machine, so he called the matter to the attention of the corner policeman.

Zung the first mentioned said it was like this: formerly he had been employed by Zung of the second part as a coolie. When he quit that employ he was indebted to his former master to the extent of $1, a fact of which the latter constantly reminded him. He had no money and try as he might to save it from his earnings he could not get $1 ahead. He really wanted to pay the debt. So he had taken the tires, meaning to sell them and return the money to their erstwhile owner. The solution seemed entirely equitable to him and he wore an extremely injured air when they led him out to the big blue wagon.

BOTH SIDES ERR

The day's lightening profitably accomplished, Wong Ah-zung, boatman, was proceeding blissfully along the Broadway Thursday night lugging a huge basketful of copper coins when someone—probably a less popular bargee—whispered into the ear of Sikh Police Constable No. 168.

"I am informed that you have stolen this basketful of coin," explained the Sikh. "You'll have to come along with me to the station."

"And on the way to the station," the policeman told the Assessor and Magistrate at the Mixed Court yesterday, "he slipped $2 into my hand and said he wished I wouldn't take him any farther."

Sub-Inspector Everson then took the witness stand and explained to the Court that investigation had proved Wong to be the rightful owner of the coppers, but that in view of what had happened it was deemed best to charge him with bribery of a police officer.

"It wasn't that there was a thing on my conscience," declared Wong when his turn came to be heard. "But I was afraid that the coins would be confiscated. I didn't know it was wrong to give the policeman money. Besides I thought it would save time."

The Court gave Wong a strong talk about such time-saving methods and in order to drive the lesson home, impounded the $2.

Charges Of Arms Deal Are Brought Against F. C. Tong

Publisher, Who Is Held In Connection With Girl's Suicide, Accused

Charges of being implicated in the purchase of arms for opposing political cliques have been made by Chinese in Shanghai against F. C. Tong, now detained by the Nantao Procurate in connection with the suicide of Miss Zih Zang-tseng, a young mailing clerk employed in his office, according to the Journal of Commerce, of which Tong is the part owner.

The charges were made in the office of the Defense Commissioner, General Ho Feng-lin, and a request was made by the complainants to try him by Court Martial. General Ho has ordered an investigation of the charges, says the journal.

MUSSOLINI GIVES ALLIES HINT OF NEW COMPLICATION

Threatens Severance From Entente If Italy Is Dissatisfied

TO CURB TURKS

Declares For Freedom Of Straits; Justice For Moslem

(Reuter's Service)

Rome, Nov. 16.—In the course of a speech in the Chamber today, the Premier, Signor Mussolini, said that he was there to defend and use to the utmost the revolution of the black shirts.

He hinted at a possibility of his revising the peace treaties if absurdities in their working were revealed, likewise the possibility of Italy resuming freedom of action as regards the Entente if the forthcoming interviews with the British and French Ministers resulted unsatisfactorily.

They must, Signor Mussolini said, at Lausanne recognise accomplished facts provided they obtained the necessary guarantees for traffic through the Straits, European interests and Christian minorities. Once Turkey had obtained her due they must say:

"Thus far and no farther."

The Government, the Premier concluded, were disposed to consider the possibility of a final settlement with Russia. Italy took a very liberal view of Russian participation at Lausanne.

SHANGHAI VIEW OF IT

"This telegram means that Italy is going to ask the Allies for a declaration of their intentions," said a well informed member of the Italian community last night. "It is a notification by Premier Mussolini that Italy proposes to have her rights under the treaty of London and that he issues it in advance of the Lausanne conference is a measure of the greatness of the man. He sees nothing to be gained by a surprise attack and prefers to let the coming event cast its shadow before.

"The whole matter dates back to the Treaty of London entered into when Italy joined the Allies in the war. She was then assured that if territorial aggrandisement came to Britain, France, Russia or Belgium through the outcome of the war, Italy would share equally with the others. This promise has not been kept despite that, of all the countries concerned, Italy has the greatest need for colonies as her population, unlike that of France, is growing rapidly and cannot be accommodated on the peninsula.

"Italy is a natural coloniser, too, as witness the myriads who have gone to the Mediterranean coast of Africa which is practically populated by Italians. In Tunis, a French province, at least 75 percent of the population is Italian. All that Italy received out of the war was the rectification of her northern frontier, the Carpathians being given her to prevent any future menace by Hungarians or Austrians.

CAN'T FARM MOUNTAINS

"We cannot colonise the Carpathians as none wants a farm that runs straight up and down. Except for purposes of defense, they are useless and are a liability rather than an Italian asset. Therefore Italy is going to demand that the Allies keep their pact with her and if they do not the Entente is at an end so far as we are concerned. Naturally we prefer to work with Britain and France, but the profit must not be all on one side.

"Why has this demand not been made before? Because Italy until now has been cursed with a weak government which took the lines of no resistance at all, a spineless attitude. Now comes the Fascisti government which is anything but jelly-like. Its members wear black shirts as black is the color of death and they are pledged to die if need be to right their country's wrongs.

NOT LEFT FRIENDLESS

"Italy need not be friendless in case she quits the Entente. While Mussolini clearly sets forth that he is with the Allies as regards the freedom of the Straits and the

THEYKEN GIVEN 18 MONTHS FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Liggett And Myers Employee Also Fined $1,000 For Cigarette Thefts

Pleading guilty to the charge of embezzling 6,000,000 cigarettes valued at $18,000, Henry G. Theyken, former manager of the Canton offices of Liggett and Myers, was sentenced to 18 months in Bilibid prison, Manila and fined $1,000 by Judge Charles S. Lobingier in the United States Court yesterday.

Theyken was arrested upon his arrival here from the South on the s.s. Sinkiang on November 1, shortly after H. E. Falcone, who was the assistant manager of the branch, had been arrested here aboard the President Grant en route to America. Falcone's trial on the same charges has not yet been heard.

Judge Lobingier's decision follows:

"The accused pleads guilty to an information charging him with the crime of embezzlement.

"In that the said defendant * * on or about October 6, 1922, at the City of Canton, Republic of China, and within the jurisdiction of this Court, did, unlawfully and feloniously and fraudulently take, make way with, with intent to convert to his own use, six million cigarettes (6,000,000) of the value of about eighteen thousand dollars, Hongkong currency, ($18,000.00 H. K.), the said cigarettes having come into his possession and under his care by virtue of his employment as agent of the Liggett and Myers Tobacco Co." etc.

"A statement prepared by the accused was read by him in open court. It sets forth a variety of circumstances, some of which are disputed by the prosecution and most of which would not be considered extenuating in the technical sense. His counsel also addressed the court asking that the accused be given the maximum fine provided by the Act of Congress of March 3, 1901 and be relieved of any further penalty.

"But the statute also provides for imprisonment for not more then ten years or both fine and imprisonment and in view of the large amount admitted to have been taken and of the responsible and fiduciary position admitted to have been held by the accused, we do not feel that we could safely and consistently accede to counsel's request.

"Only the other day, three defendants were sentenced here to one year of imprisonment (the minimum penalty) for forgery. The amount obtained by each of them was insignificant compared with this and no trust relation was involved. And if we limit this penalty to a fine we could not consistently impose a prison sentence for the embezzlement of any smal-

Bandits Boldly Return To Attack On 10,000 Troops

(Eastern News Agency)

Hankow, November 16.—Advices from Chumatien, Honan, report that Chumatien has been attacked for the third time by bandits who encountered the Northern troops, resulting in a severe fight. The fighting commenced on Tuesday night at 11 o'clock and came to an end at daylight the following day.

Though the bandits are said to have been completely defeated, judging from the fact that they attempted a counter-attack for the third time, when they were well aware that in Chumatien there are stationed some 10,000 soldiers of the Northern troops, it is to be inferred that their strength cannot be ignored.

Inhabitants resident in the region who are taking refuge in Chumatien in large numbers, are in a pitiful condition. It is reported that two foreign missionaries resident in Hsinchihsien have been kidnapped. It appears, the advices add, that a large force of the bandits is advancing north.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 14.—General Ma Lien-chia, Tuli of Military Affairs in Anhwei, has telegraphed to the Government that following the despatch of Colonel Yin Kung-hsien at the head of a force for suppression of bandits, the Hsiens of Fuyang, Hao, Taiho, Yinshang, Hochin, and Loan, have been entirely cleared of these outlaws.

General Ma asks that the Government take steps for the immediate relief of the inhabitants who have been plundered by them.

U. S. DEMANDS AN APOLOGY; BRITISH FIRMLY REFUSE

Newcastle Consular Case Ends In Deadlock And Recriminations

(China Press Service)

Washington, Nov. 16.—The charges against American Consul Slater and Vice Consul Brookes of the Newcastle, England, consulate have been withdrawn, it was understood here today.

It was stated, however, that the State Department had demanded that the British Government apologise to the men themselves and to this country before they would reopen the consulate. Unofficial reports state that Britain has absolutely refused to accede to this request.

The consulate was closed last August, when it was charged by British travelers that the two consuls, were attempting to discriminate against all but American ships, by refusing to issue a vise to any except those who would agree to travel on an American vessel. Upon learning of this the British authorities closed the consulate and threatened to bring Slater and Brookes to trial.

Influence was brought to bear and the men were permitted their liberty. After a threefold investigation, the charges were dropped. The British, however, claim that there was sufficient evidence to convict both of the accused men, and that therefore no apology can be tendered.

HONAN IS AFLAME

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Nov. 14.—The whole of Honan Province is aflame with banditry, according to foreign refugees who are arriving here from various parts of Honan. Foreign captives are put on the firing line by bandits who employ these hostages as shields knowing that government troops will not dare to fire on foreigners.

Government troops of General Chin Yun-ao and General Chang Fu-lai, the new Military Administrator of Honan in succession to General Feng Yu-hsiang, who just left when brigands began to run rampant, are attempting to pinch the robbers from all sides, but evidently they are not capable of coping with the outlaws who have even employed government railway cars for the transport of their ill-gotten wealth.

Foreigners of various missions in Honan are continuing to flee to Hankow, and they report thrilling and fearful experiences. To all appearances the bandits are liable to become worse, as they are now ravaging practically the whole of Honan where all leading cities and hsien either have been or are being raided. Important stations along the Peking-Hankow line are being lost and regained, and the brigands have never been defeated to the extent of quitting the railway zone.

FOREIGNERS ESCAPE

Practically the entire foreign population at Chikungshan have by this time left the hills, and have escaped to Hankow. Besides, all missionaries in Honan who can conveniently do so are making haste to flee the province, and the China Inland Mission, the Lutherian Mission and other missions having stations in Honan are making all possible efforts to get their people out of Honan.

Several foreign missionaries who are reported to have escaped from their stations cannot be located at the present, and much concern is felt for their safety. At Kwangchow, a party of British missionaries of the China Inland Mission, consisting of the Rev. H. J. Mason, his wife, Miss Davey and another young lady, left their station last Sunday, but nothing has been heard about them ever since.

CONSERVATIVES WIN WITH MAJORITY OF 70 OR MORE; LABOR TAKES 141 SEATS

Among Those Defeated Are 125 Former Members Including Ten Former Ministers And Five Members Of The Government

LLOYD GEORGE SAYS HE IS 'SATISFIED'

Women Fail To Rally To Aid Of Own Sex, Most Of Whom Are Not Returned—Labor Issues Manifesto On The Result

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 16.—It is now obvious that the Government will have a majority of 70 or 80 over all the other parties with Labor as its strongest opposition. The National Liberal figures are in accordance with expectations but the Liberals have disappointed the prophets.

Five members of the Government have been defeated.

Mr. Lloyd George announces that he is "satisfied with the results."

A Labor Party manifesto says that the brilliant and widely distributed successes have shown that the party is supported by all classes who demand a constructive social policy. The party with its strengthened debating power will prove the most vigorous opposition the House of Commons has seen for years.

The fact that the successes were most notable in Scotland and Wales, which have hitherto been Liberal strongholds, indicates that Labor has replaced Liberalism. A Labor Government is certain in the near future. Many Labor gains are unquestionably due to women's votes.

Mr. Asquith refused to speak on the Liberal position. He attributed the Labor turnover in Scotland to unemployment and distress.

London, Nov. 17.—The election of the Speaker will be the only business when Parliament meets on Monday. It is expected that Mr. J. H. Whitley will be reelected without opposition.

The Labor Party now becomes the official Opposition of the House of Commons and it is expected that Mr. Ramsay Macdonald will be the leader.

A survey of the polling shows that 125 former members have been defeated, including 10 ex-Ministers.

The principal conclusion drawn from the voting of the women is that they did not favor candidates of their own sex.

Forty-five candidates forfeit their £150 deposit through failing to poll one-eighth of the total votes.

Not a single morning paper agrees that the party analysis is due to he existence of tiny stray groups but it is agreed that up to the present approximately the Conservatives total 344, Laborites 141, Liberals 60, National Liberals 52 and Independents 8.

There are still 10 results outstanding.

Mr. George Lansbury and Mr. G. March (Labor) defeated a Conservative and a National Liberal respectively in the two Poplar Divisions.

SNOWDEN RETURNED

Mr. Philip Snowden (Labor) gained the Colne Valley constituency.

Mr. Harney (Liberal) gained South Shields, heavily defeating Mr. Havelock Wilson (National Liberal), the President of the National Sailors' and Firemen's Union.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, the former Chief Secretary for Ireland, was defeated at Sunderland where two Conservatives were returned with large majorities.

Mr. Sidney Webb, the well-know Socialist, won a thumping majority for Labor at Seaham (Durhamm).

KESWICK DEFEATED

Major Henry Keswick, former Chairman of the Municipal Council of Shanghai (Conservative) was defeated in Dumfriesshire.

Mr. C. M. Crisp, the negotiator of the Crisp Loan to China, (Liberal) was defeated at Windsor.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 16.—Conservatives 342: Liberals 59: Labor 140: National Liberals 45: Independents 15.

CHURCHILL BEATEN

London, Nov. 16.—Mr. Winston Churchill was defeated at Dundee. Mr. Scrymgeour (Prohibitionist) was elected with 32,578 votes, Mr. Edward Morel (Labor) receiving 30,292, Mr. Macdonald (National Liberal) 22,244, Mr. Churchill 20,468, Mr. Pilington (Liberal) 6,681 and Mr. Gallagher (Communist) 5,906.

Mr. Gilbert Murray was defeated at Oxford University where Lord Hugh Cecil and Sir Charles Oman were elected.

Sir L. Worthington-Evans has been elected.

Mr. H. A. L. Fisher and Mr. Conway retained their seats for the combined English Universities. Three out of the four other

The proceeds from subscriptions will be used to assist in repatriating stranded Polish refugees who are without funds.

MAJOR HEYBURN SUCCUMBS AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Manager Of Admiral Line Has Enviable Record For Work In War

After an illness of two months, Major George A. Heyburn, Oriental manager of the Admiral Line and a shipping man of long experience, died at 2 o'clock this morning, at his home in the Ezra Buildings. His many friends in Shanghai and America will be profoundly grieved to learn of his demise.

Major Heyburn has been in the Orient three years. He served with the American troops in France and was made a Chevalier of the Legion d'Honneur, the decoration being proposed by Marshal Petain. He also was the recipient of the Congressional Medal of Honor, for which he was cited by General Pershing for his management of the Port of La Pallice.

His wife who is in Shanghai, and his father and relatives in England, survive him. The cause of death was a malignancy of the liver.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Chapel of Bubbling Well Cemetery.

At Taunton Mr. Simpson (Liberal) was elected with 13,095 votes, Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen only receiving 10,182 votes.

For Galloway shire Mr. Dadgeon (Liberal) was elected with 12,406 votes, the Lord Advocate, Mr. W. Watson, receiving 10,557.

Mr. F. S. Jackson was elected for the Howdenshire Division, Yorkshire, Mr. C. B. Fry was beaten at Brighton and Sir Donald McLean was beaten at Peebles.

Mr. Ralph Hall Caine (Independent Conservative) beat Captain Guest, the National Liberal Whip, at Dorset East.

Major J. W. Hill, Financial Secretary to the Treasury was defeated at Durham. Mr. J. ... beat the Independent candidate, Sir Thomas Folson, at Dover.

CHAMBERLAIN WINS

Mr. Austen Chamberlain was returned for Birmingham West with 15,405 votes, Mr. Smith (Labor) receiving 9,599.

In Birmingham, Sparkbrook Division, Mr. Amery (Conservative) received 13,236 votes, Mr. Duggan (Liberal) 7,233 and Mr. Hampton (Co-operative) 6,310.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain was returned by a large majority in Birmingham.

Sir Robert Sanders was elected by a majority of only 21 votes in his constituency of Bridgewater, Somerset.

Mr. Ronald McNeill was re-elected for Canterbury.

Colonel John Ward held his seat at Stoke with a majority of 6,163.

London, 1.00 p.m. Nov. 16—Conservatives 183; National Liberals: 27; Liberals 27; Labor 74; Independent 8. (2.00 p.m.) Conservatives 230; Labor 88; Liberals 30; National Liberals 27; Independents 8.

London, Nov. 16.—Mr. Stanley Baldwin, Mr. William Ormsby-Gore, Lord Wolmer and Lord Robert Cecil have all been returned by large majorities. Mrs. Margaret Wintringham has been re-elected. Mr. Kellaway (Liberal) was heavily defeated by a Conservative at Bedford.

Mr. W. C. Bridgeman and Sir John Simon have been elected.

The Communist, Mr. Newbold, was returned at Motherwell, defeating a National Liberal and a Liberal Orangeman.

general policy of making Turkey adhere to her pacts, he still leaves the way open for an understanding with Turkey as well as with Russia, Germany and the rest of Europe. Mussolini is far more powerful than the casual observer might suppose. Back of him are the 900,000 well armed and military trained Fascisti and now that he has captured the Government, he controls the regular army of 220,000 men as well.

In the dispatch he has thrown down the gauntlet, as it were, and now it is up to the other members of the Entente to decide whether they prefer Italy as a friend and co-worker or an enemy. There is no middle course, either Italy will be given freely what she is entitled to under the Treaty of London, or she will use every means in her power to get her rights."

Ningpo Association Demands Evidence In Case Of Fu Siao-en

Local Organisation Expresses Indignation Over High-handness Of Peking

A special urgent meeting of the Ningpo Association of Shanghai was called yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in order to discuss the charges brought against Mr. Fu Siao-en. Over fifty members were present, including Directors Chu Pao-san, Yu Yah-ching, Chow Ching-tseng, Zia Hung-chong, Shen Tsoh-su, and Li Tsing-woo. The chief director first explained the reasons for calling the meeting, and all present were indignant at the indiscriminate use of power of the Ministry of Communications in bringing charges on innocent people. They all decided to telegraph to Peking, the Civil and Military Governors of Kiangsu and Chekiang, and the Military Governor of Shanghai and Woosung demanding full publication of the real nature of these charges, so that the innocent shall not suffer.

The following is their telegram to the President, the Cabinet and the Ministry of Justice.

"The Chinese papers published the mandate dated Nov. 14, 1922, saying that according to the report of the Ministry of Communications Fu Chung-yao (Fu Siao-en), the superintendent of the Bank of China, Shanghai, has been conspiring with Cheng Hung-nien to instigate the railway strike, has been financing and aiding Hsu Shu-tsang, and has been usurping the management of the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company contrary to the provisions of the Criminal Code and is ordered to be arrested and handed over to the Law Court for prosecution.

"Now, this is starting beyond measure. Fu Chung-yao is one of the Directors respected and trusted by all. He is a merchant leading in Shanghai and has never allowed himself to be mixed up with politics. What conclusive evidences have they got in charging him with such crimes?

"As manager and director of the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company, Fu's actions and dealings have always been strict and straightforward, and there are some in the Company who are not satisfied with him. It is likely therefore that they had purposely made these false charges against him so as to injure him. The Ministry of Communications took in the one-sided words, without investigating into the truth of it and forthwith submitted the report to you. This is a very indiscriminate use of power and everybody feels indignant and fears for himself that he may be the next victim.

"Therefore we respectfully beg that you will order the Ministry of Communications to make a clear declaration so that the rights of men may be preserved and justice done."

The message was signed by Mr. Chu Pao-san and Mr. Yu Yah-ching as Chairman and vice-chairman of the Ningpo Association of Shanghai.

Similar telegrams were sent yesterday by the General Chamber of Commerce of Shanghai and the Shanghai Bankers' Association as a result of extraordinary meetings called by the directors of the two bodies.

The telegram of the chamber asked for the names of the complainants in the case as well as the evidence against the accused, while that of the bankers' association inquired who are to be responsible for the action if the case is found to be based on false charges.

Hangs Self In Cell Rather Than Answer Manslaughter Charge

Chinese Carpenter Uses Socks To Commit Suicide At Hongkew Station

Liang Loong, a carpenter, due to appear in the Mixed Court a few hours later to answer to a charge of manslaughter, forestalled the court procedure by tying his socks together and hanging himself in his cell at Hongkew police station early yesterday morning.

The prisoner was charged with striking a fellow workman, Loh Ong-sung, over the head with a stick of wood in a shop at 34 Nanzing Road last Tuesday, the blow resulting in the other's death. At the inquest Liang admitted striking Loh, but said that it was in the course of some rough play in the shop and denied intent to inflict serious injury.

port perilous escapes. At Suiping which was sacked and burned by the bandit hordes on November 10, the Rev. H. M. Nessi, his wife and child, and Miss Inga Overhuess are reported to have left their station when bandits were busy at work, and their escape was made safe only through their hiding themselves in a small Chinese house on their way out.

They have not arrived in Hankow, but it is said that they have made good their escape. Dr. Fedde and Mr. Lillebergen and their families left Kwangchow last Thursday when bandits began to overrun the province, had to walk some 240 li from Kwangchow to Siuyangchow, as no sedan-chairs were obtainable at that time. This party of foreigners saw many Chinese of that district who were their fellow wayfarers in their attempt to escape.

Yencheng was captured by bandits on November 12 and the staff of the Lutheran Mission at Choshan which is nearby had trying experiences in getting out, as they were held up in that locality while the bandits were looting and burning towns in that district. Dr. Eckfelt, Dr. Kan and Mr. Thorsen, managed to get the party through the bandits zone to Chumatien in the south, and there being many ladies and children in the party, they interviewed General Chin Yun-ao at Chumatien with the request that cars be secured to send the party safely to Hankow, which was done after a long delay. In their painful journeys out of Honan, these missionaries report that fires were seen along the Kinhan line.

FOREIGNERS RESENTFUL

Protest and resentment against the inefficiency of Chinese officials in Honan is felt among foreigners in Hankow.

Commander Chang Fu-lai of Honan has rewarded General Chin Iun-ao and his troops with $10,000 for their excellent services checking the bandits. Marshal Tsao Kun has ordered General Ma Lien-chia to despatch some of his troops from Anhwei to invade the border of Honan where bandits are expected to make their retreat from Honan when they give way in face of government forces.

Brigands under the Shantung Bandit Chief, "Lao Yang Jen" exsoldiers under Bao Teh-cheng, of Kaifengfu who was executed by Tuchun Feng Yu-hsiang, the disbanded troops of Chao Chieh, a deposed general of Honan, and the legion of bandits found everywhere in Honan are taking united action battling against Honan government troops and making trouble in the province where Wu Pei-fu and Feng Yu-hsiang make their homes.

There are now eight foreigners in the hands of bandits, and amongst them are Americans Frenchmen, Belgians, British and Swedish subjects. These foreign hostages are receiving kind treatment at the hands of the kidnappers, who meant to secure favorable terms of compromise from the governors by thus holding foreigners in captivity and involving the government into diplomatic troubles.

NOW IN DISTRESS

Foreign missionaries and families in the dangerous area who have not yet fallen into the banlits' hands are reporting distressing situations in their localities, as they are not able to escape through Honan which is beset by robbers and outlaws. In addition to Mr. Ledgard and Mr. Borg-Breen who were captured, the premises of Rev. George Holm were destroyed and himself taken away by bandits while his family escaped.

The kidnapped foreigners, however, are in mail communication with the outside, although they are denied the privilege of moving and acting freely. The other foreigners, mostly belonging to the various missions, are also threatened, as they are not able to escape from their mission stations which have either been pillaged or destroyed.

The bandits carry machine guns and big field pieces which once belonged to the troops of their master Chao Chieh, when the latter was in the regular army. They are also in possession of some three hundred horses. Besides some of them are even dressed in uniforms.

Among places devastated, burned and sacked by the bandits are Kwangchow, Shangtsai, Shenkiu, Sihsien, and Chenyang in Honan while the district of Yingchow in Anhwei was also raided by the brigands.

Government troops are battling with the bandits at several places now, but beyond the railway line they only dare to march about twenty li. However at railway stations where they are in control, thorough search is made of passengers and people passing at Chumatien no less than twenty persons suspected to be bandits dressed in civilians clothes were executed within the last few days.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense, and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, in the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered pheminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefully and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water, and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcum powder. (Advt.)

Young Man Of 25—

How many of your friends now at 60 can show $100,000 invested for them and yielding $7,000 a year?

The chances are many of them can't because when at your age they didn't begin to follow any definite plan of financial preparation for the future.

You CAN if you WILL put $57.70 a month into safe bonds. That small sum invested regularly in 7% bonds with the semi-annual interest payments immediately re-invested at 7% will amount to $45,351 when you are 50 and over $100,000 when you are 60.

We have the bonds! Have you the foresight? Then let's get together.

Mandate Oraers Investigation Into China Merchants Co.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 17.—As a result of a petition from a number of shareholders in the China Merchants Steam Navigation Company, a mandate was issued last night appointing Messrs. Shou Hung-chun, Chang Fu-yun and Yin Tai-chu as special commissioners to proceed to Shanghai, to investigate the charges against certain members of the Company's Board of Directors. The alleged offences include carelessness regarding human life.

Returned Students Guests At Party

A hundred and fifty couples attended the reception given last night by the American University club to the American Returned Students' club, the feature of which was a program of entertainment offered by some of the performers in the recent Shrine minstrels. The party was held at the Columbia Country club, and among the guests of honor were Judge Lobingier, of the United States Court for China, and Hon. Edwin S. Cunningham, Consul General of the United States for Shanghai.

Among the numbers on the entertainment program were the following:

Song, "Put me to sleep in my old Kentucky home," by Messrs. Vincent and Wynn.

Original Hawaiian Selections, by Mr. Heen.

Quartette, Messrs. Heen, Wynn, Hanna and Vincent.

Negro Song, by Mr. Vincent.

Piano Solo, by Mr. Cameron.

Song, "Virginia Blues," by Mr. Hanna.

A buffet luncheon was served, and at the conclusion of the festivities the returned students gave their college yells.

NILE IS WITHDRAWN

The China Mail Steamship Company has received telegraphic advices from the Hongkong Agency to the effect that the steamer Nile is to be withdrawn from trans-Pacific service on arrival at Hongkong on Dec. 3.

CERTAINTY AND UNCERTAINTY

IT is in times of economic and political uncertainty such as the world is passing through today that men feel most of all the need of something sound and secure, something upon which they can rely at all times. Particularly does the man with dependents feel the insecurity and helplessness of his position in times like these.

ONE firm and secure institution, the importance and soundness of which is being appreciated in increasing measure year after year, is life insurance. A life insurance policy with a strong American company, under American insurance laws, represents absolute financial certainty. It is a standby for the present and a safeguard for the future.

GUARANTEED SCRUBBABLE

W.H.C. SUPER-DURABLE FLAT PAINT

FLAT WALL FINISH

A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. It dries in a reasonably quick time, so that work can be carried out effectively, yet has the property of remaining open long enough to enable the worker to cover a large surface of wall without making laps or edges.

Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.

Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.

1 Imperial Gallon covers about 130 square yards one coat.

Letts Celebrate Today, Is Fourth Anniversary Of Latvian Independence

Declared Sovereign State On November 18, 1918; Country's Reconstruction Program Progresses Rapidly

BY EDWARD A. SILGALW

Today is the Latvian Holiday. Latvia was declared an independent state on November 18, 1918.

Several thousand years ago, an adventure-loving tribe started northward from beyond the Himalayas. Apparently it was not economical cause that influenced these people but "wanderlust," pure and simple, because the riches and fertility of the many lands that they traversed on their journey did not entice them to settle down. They kept on moving steadily, ever northward, so that, according to the researches of several prominent German scientists, they arrived on the shores of the Baltic Sea about 5,000 years ago.

Today this little people, now known as Letts, occupies the Republic of Latvia, which consists of the former Russian Empire's provinces, Courland, Livonia, and the part of Vitebsk, known as Latgale. That the Letts did actually move northward is convincingly implied as of all the living languages, the language of the Letts is the nearest to the ancient Sanskirt, from which all Indo-European languages originated. Such a preservation of the ancient language was made possible only because the Letts kept moving, did not mingle freely with other tribes.

It is possible that the Baltic Sea was considered by the Letts a serious barrier to further progress and that a little exploration further North did not indicate anything promising in that direction, but it is more probable that in the regions at present known as Courland and Livonia, the Letts found an exceedingly desirable and convenient place to settle.

In the forests they found the most varied kinds of berries and fungi in inexhaustible quantities, while the rivers and lakes were teeming with tasty varieties of fish. The forests, swamps and meadows were rich with game. There were also plenty of wolves and bears. It is claimed that among the early Letts, there were numerous athletes who considered a wrestling match with a full-grown bruin as a sport. The Letts endeavored to get hold of the bear's jaws and to break them apart. Apparently in this is to be found the origin of the present "bear tearers" military medal, which is the highest decoration that can be obtained by the Latvian soldier.

WAS LATER GERMAN

Up to about 700 years ago the Letts lived as a more or less free people; their principal occupation being agriculture, fishing, hunting and also primitive trading. Several thousand years ago, Latvian amber attracted the Phoenicians, as has been proved by the discovery of ancient coins and other articles in various parts of Latvia. During those periods amber formed a greater attraction than even gold.

For about 700 years preceding the world war, Latvia, however, has been under a foreign yoke. About the year 1200, German crusaders already had a fairly solid footing along the shores of the Duna river and by the aid of the sword, they spread Christianity among the Letts. The Letts at one time completely annihilated the German invaders, but continual reinforcements as well as the superiority of the Germans in military science and arms made the fight unequal. The state created by the Teutonic order lasted until 1560. After that, Livonia was annexed to Lithuania and Poland, and Courland became a vassal duchy of Lithuania—Poland. In 1621, Litvonia was annexed by Sweden and between the years of 1710 and 1795, various parts of Latvia were annexed to Russia.

The following table gives an idea of the comparative area and the population of Latvia just before the war:

Greece, 25,014 sq. miles; 2,666,000.
Latvia, 24,780 sq. miles; 2,605,000.
Switzerland, 15,955 sq. miles; 3,765,000.
Denmark, 15,586 sq. miles; 2,775,000.
Netherlands, 12,741 sq. miles; 5,853,000.
Belgium, 11,373 sq. miles; 7,424,000.

The population of Latvia consists of the following nationalities:

Letts 75.8 percent.
Russians 7.9 percent.
Hebrews 6.4 percent.
Germans 3.7 percent.
Miscellaneous 6.2 percent.

The world war reduced the population of Latvia to about 1,800,000. On January 1, 1922, there were in Latvia only 1,813,600 inhabitants, or about 72.5 to a square mile. However, there are still about 150,000 Letts in Russia and Siberia and these are returning as fast as transportation permits.

Latvia is a Protestant country, for 76.54 percent or more than three-fourths of the population are Protestants, the majority belonging to the evangelical Lutheran Church.

Latvia is well provided with schools. The high educational standing of the Lettish people is especially brought out by the number of secondary schools in Latvia. At present there are 4,776 students at the Riga University. The Letts are one of the most literate and educated people of the world.

HIT BY WAR

Racial, lingual, and religious differences, that distinguish the Letts from their nearest neighbors, are closely connected with similar differences in the national character, temperament and customs. This explains why the Letts, between two hostile races, the Russians on one side and the Germans on the other, have not only preserved their nationality, but have developed a distinct national culture of their own.

Latvia suffered severely during the war and the after-the-war invasions of Germans and Bolshevists. The machinery of all industrial plants was taken to Russia, and Latvia was greatly hampered in the reconstruction work. The re-shipment of several complete plants has started, but is proceeding very slowly, owing to the condition of railroads in Russia. However, in spite of these handicaps, considerable progress has been made by independent Latvia during the four years since her establishment.

Latvia is recognised de jure by all the Governments of the world with the exception of China. The U. S. Government recognised Latvia as a sovereign and independent state on July 27, 1922.

The Latvian Government, in co-operation with the various commercial and industrial associations, has worked out a fairly complete reconstruction program. On a big electrification project, utilising the enormous water power resources of Latvia, actual work has already been started, and the favorable geographical position of Latvia, possessing three convenient and spacious ports—Riga, Libau and Windau—will greatly contribute to speed up reconstruction and to create prosperity throughout the country.

URGE AMERICANS HERE TO JOIN THE RED CROSS

Residents Are Circularised And Asked To Take Out Memberships

The American community in Shanghai is being circularised by a letter calling attention to the necessity of contributing to the annual Red Cross Roll Call. The text of the letter follows:

"Dear Sir:—Once a year the American Red Cross calls the roll of Americans in all parts of the world and it is the duty and privilege of all Americans to answer by renewing their membership in this great organisation.

"In the years of the war the American Red Cross made appeals for money which were generously responded to. The work of the Red Cross is still going forward but there is no longer a need for large sums. What is wanted this year is membership, the annual membership which costs only $2.00.

"The amount of money contributed by Americans in China toward the support of the American Red Cross is very small in comparison to the amount extended by this organisation in China. Thousands have been spent for relief here for every dollar contributed by American residents.

"We want to make the answer to the roll call this year unanimous. Don't wait for some one to call on you. Send your name and address and two dollars to our headquarters, Room 302 Robert Dollar Building and membership card will be mailed to you."

ler amount hereafter. Surely that would be a dangerous precedent. The case is one which we feel requires a prison sentence though we have endeavored not to impose one which is unduly severe.

"The accused is accordingly sentenced to imprisonment for eighteen months to be served in Bilibid Prison, Manila, Territory of the Philippines (unless duly transferred to some other lawful place of confinement), to pay a fine of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) U. A LITTLE AND GOOD MOTTO
On the principle that "a little and good" is better for you, you can be gently stimulated by the use of Haig & Haig at no increased cost

MODERATION

To get the best out of anything it must be used moderately. All the things that are good can be made bad by excess.

SLEEP is good, but Solomon knew what excess of sleep meant. "Go to the ant, thou sluggard: consider her ways and be wise."

SUNLIGHT is good, but we could not sleep in eternal sunshine.

EXERCISE is good, but excess produces exhaustion.

STIMULATION is good, but excess has been the ruin of many.

"A LITTLE AND GOOD" is the motto and maxim of Haig & Haig.

"Anna Christie"

"Anna Christie," the prize-winning play by Eugene O'Neil, the leading American dramatist of the present time, will be presented by the Far Eastern Players at the Olympic Theater tonight and tomorrow night as their second offering of the engagement. "The Gold Diggers," in which Miss Adele Blood made her debut before a Shanghai audience, was repeated before a full house at the Olympic last night, seemingly to better advantage that it was on the previous evening.

Tim Frawley, for many years a Shanghai favorite, will step behind the footlights again tonight as Christoperson, grizzled old sea dog, and the father of Anna Christie (Miss Blood). Bernard Nedell will play Matt Burke, Anna's lover.

"Anna Christie" is an exceptionally dramatic offering, and one in which Miss Blood and Mr. Frawley, as well as the other members of the cast, are shown to their best advantage. It is from the pen of Eugene O'Neil, author of "Beyond The Horizon," "The Hairy Ape," "The Straw" and other unquestioned successes, and after running a year in New York is now playing in Chicago before houses booked days in advance.

Bookings for both tonight and tomorrow night are still available at Moutrie's but as tonight is Mr. Frawley's first appearance it is expected the 'standing room' only sign will be out by the time the curtain goes up.

NEW COUNSELLOR FOR U.S. LEGATION COMES ON WILSON

Mr. Edward Bell, Formerly in Tokio, Appointed To Post At Peking

(China Press Service)

Peking, Nov. 16.—The American Legation today announced that Mr. Edward Bell will arrive in Shanghai Wednesday on the President Wilson on his way to Peking where he is to become the new Counsellor of the Legation. Mr. Bell is accompanied by his wife and two children.

Mr. Bell has enjoyed a varied diplomatic career. After graduation from Harvard he served as Deputy Consul General at Cairo for two years, then being transferred to the American Legation in Teheran. The following year he was appointed Secretary to the Legation in Havana, returning in 1912 to the State Department in Washington.

Seven months later he was appointed Second Secretary to the American Embassy in London and remained at that important post during the first year of the war, returning in 1915 to take up duties at the State Department. Immediately following the Armistice he was appointed Counsellor of Embassy at Tokio but was recalled by Secretary Hughes to assist on the technical staff of the Limitation of Armaments Conference in Washington in 1921. Following the close of the conference he was appointed Chief of the Division of Current Information at the State Department from which position he comes direct to his new post here.

ENVOYS TO PROBE CHARGES AGAINST C. M. S. N. HEADS

Peking Appoints Three To Inquire Into Conditions Of Local Directorate

The Ministry of Communications has appointed Mr. Shao Hun-tsing, ex-Consul-General at Vladivostok; Dr. F. Chang, chief of the navigation department of the Ministry, and Mr. Yin Taichu, a councillor of the ministry, to proceed to Shanghai and investigate the charges brought against the directorate of the China Merchants Steam Navigation Co., according to the Chinese press.

The directorate has been charged with negligence, causing the loss of life and property, leasing a certain boat to a foreign company without the authorisation of the Ministry, bribery and other serious offenses.

Give 8 Years In Jail For Assault

A Chinese was sentenced to 8 years in prison by British Assessor Mead and Magistrate Tsang in the Mixed Court yesterday when he was found guilty of having seriously injured his brother in a quarrel.

The two brothers quarrelled over the division of some land an uncle had left them, and the older brother, wishing to get rid of the younger, struck him over the head with a meat chopper 14 times. The younger brother spent two weeks in hospital and appeared to prosecute yesterday. Detective Sergeant Balchin of Hongkew station handled the case.

Sue Crawley For $11,653.23 Wine Shipment

Mr. P. S. Crawley appeared in the U. S. Court for China yesterday morning before Judge Charles S. Lobingier to answer a civil suit filed by Mr. Henry Quelch, of Garner Quelch and Company, wine merchants, to recover $11,653.23 alleged to be the value of wines and liquors sent to Mr. Crawley in Harbin.

Mr. H. D. Rodger of Rodger and Haskell appeared for the plaintiff who is a British subject, and Mr. Paul F. Faison of Williams, Franklin and Faison for the defendant.

It was alleged that the plaintiff sent shipments of wines during September, October, November and December of 1920 to the defendant in Harbin. It was arranged that the shipments could not be delivered unless drafts accompanying the shipments were paid, and for unknown reasons the plaintiff alleges the defendant took delivery of all shiments without paying for them.

Mr. Crawley stated that according to a verbal agreement he was sent to Harbin to act as agent and as such should not have been required to pay transportation on merchandise shipped to him. He failed, however, to produce any written document to substantiate his claim.

In the Spring of 1921 a suit was brought against Mr. Crawley by Garner, Quelch and Co. to recover the value of the goods shipped to him and a judgment for the full amount was accorded the firm of Rodgers and Haskell in behalf of their client. At that time however Mr. Crawley was absent in America and so the judgment was never executed. Shortly after his return to the Far East he was served with papers of the proceedings and the action this morning before Judge Lobingier was brought in order to recover the amount due the plaintiff accorded by the previous decision.

Judge Lobingier adjourned the case until Monday afternoon Nov. 20 when further evidence will be presented.

Shanghai Golfers Act As Hosts At Dinner To Visiting Manila Players

Beath—Gibbs Contest Has Airing At S'hai Club

BY WESTA

The concluding event of the visit of the Manila golf team to Shanghai was staged last night at the Shanghai club, in the form of a dinner to the visiting sportsmen. Cap't Dewar, in the absence of President Ivy, of the Shanghai golf club, who was unable to attend on account of illness, acted as toastmaster, and filled that post most acceptably.

Capt. Dewar announced at the dinner that the Manila golfers had advanced a proposal for what they hoped would become a permanent golfing fixture in the Far East—an annual championship series between teams representing Shanghai, Manila and Hongkong—with the initial series to be played in Manila next spring at the time of the carnival.

This proposal was well received by the Shanghai golfers present, and Capt. Dewar expressed the hope that the series might be arranged and that Shanghai would be able to send a team.

Capt. Grieve, of the Manila players, also made a short address in which he went into some detail concerning the proposed scheme, and concluded by expressing the hope that a Shanghai team would be present in Manila next Spring.

The dinner was quite a success—as one of the Manila players expressed it, "a much greater success than the golf contests." All the speakers had quite a bit of fun with Mr. Beath, of Shanghai, and Judge Gibbs, of Manila, who played together in the interport series. Mr. Beath, it seems, is one of those "hammer and tonga" golfers who believes in getting the thing over with as quickly as possible, although, from the scores he turns in, nobody could rightly accuse Mr. Beath of slurring his game. Judge Gibbs, on the other hand, is one of those leisurely chaps who goes on the theory that the afternoon is shot to pieces anyway when you go out to play golf, and that you might as well take your time about it.

At any rate it seems that Cap't Barrett went around town after the games Wednesday spreading a story that he had seen Mr. Beath climbing the ramparts to the fifteenth green just as Judge Gibbs was passing the ladies' tee, and both Mr. Beath and Judge Gibbs took occasion to deny this story, and to reprimand Cap't Barrett for circulating such false rumors. Cap't Barrett, however, refused to be suppressed, and no sooner were the denials officially entered in the records than he came to bat with a new version of the famous Beath-Gibbs match, to wit, that those players had been seen putting on different greens at one time during their contest.

Mr. Beath rose to deny this canard but there were such gales of laughter in the room that he gave it up as a bad job. He finally managed to make himself heard long enough to announce, however, that at least he and Judge Gibbs had not found themselves once separated after they reached the nineteenth hole.

So you can see by that what a jolly old dinner it was.

The Manila golfers went out to the Hungjao golf club yesterday afternoon for a friendly match with players of that club, and while the scores were not announced, the conclusion was drawn, from Capt. Johnny Grieve's statement that the Hungjao course was a fine course "except that it had too much water on it," that the Hungjao chaps didn't permit their hospitality to become subordinate to their golfing skill.

However, when all is said and done, it has to be admitted that those Manila golfers are about the best losers that ever hit this port.

And after all they were a bit unlucky, for as Capt. Dewar said at the dinner, with a tact and cleverness that would have been becoming to Lord Beaconsfield himself: "They were unfortunate in landing here at a time when three or four of our best golfers were at the top of their game."

Capt. Dewar should have gone into the diplomatic service, eh what!

ONCE UPON A TIME, many years ago, a certain wise old dame found herself confronted by a tremendous problem. She was impaled, as the saying goes, on the horns of a dilemma. It so happened that this old party was the mother of a large family and her problem—in less degree the problem of all mothers—was to keep her children happy and satisfied. If one of the little tow-heads that tugged at her skirts became afflicted with measles, for instance, and all the neighbors came running in with caramels and specially prepared cookies for the invalid, it was her duty to soothe and beat back the rebellious little waves of jealousy that rose in the hearts of the stricken one's brothers and sisters, lest they think the illness feigned, and the cookies unfairly distributed. She had many wearisome trials and tribulations, did this kindly old lady, but she also had an endless tact and patience, and so she reared her family successfully. She was a wise mother, too, as well as a patient and tactful one, and out of the book of her great knowledge and her long experience she wrote a law that from her day to this has been the most powerful and far reaching law in the world, and certainly, beyond all doubt, the most benificent.

The old dame was Mother Nature, and the law she wrote was the Eternal Law Of Compensation.

TAKE, for instance, the case of a certain Chinese lad who extracts a barefooted and precarious living from the business of caddying at the race track golf course. Not an enviable profession, surely, what with a score of frantic applicants through which one must fight and claw one's way to reach the coppered crumbs that are tossed all too infrequently into that seething area of caddying competition! And on stormy days, when that for-the-most-part snarling pack of golfing tyros may not indulge thair atrocious habit of heaping curses and imprecations upon the heads of their caddies, thus vainly seeking alibis for their own wretched lack of mastery over those tormented weapons with which they masecrate the inoffending turf—what about those days?

Not the softest job in the world, hey?

However, don't go looking for buckets into which to spill your sympathetic tears. On the contrary, fellow dubs and dubettes, gather 'round and I'll spin you a tale of golf shots that will make you wish you were a Chinese caddy, out there at the race track scrambling for customers and wondering, perchance, if among them there will be one big hearted enough to give you an old coat.

Last evening, armed with a midiron and a dozen old balls,

Sixth Extra Meeting On This Afternoon; Eight Races On Good Program

The sixth extra race meeting of the year will be held at the Shanghai Race course this afternoon, the steeplechase, hurdle and flat events being complimentary to American racing.

Eight events are scheduled, as follows:

1.—The Tennessee Handicap Hurdle race, about 1 1-4 miles.

2.—The Kentucky Steeplechase, over Loong-fei water jump, once around and in.

3.—The New York Cup, 3-4 mile.

4.—The Boston Plate, 7 furlongs.

5.—The Washington Handicap, A class, 1 1-2 miles.

6.—The Washington Handicap, B class, 1 1-2 miles.

7.—The California Stakes, 1 1-4 mile.

8.—The Virginia Selling Race, 3-4 mile.

The first bell will be rung promptly at 1:15 o'clock. At this meeting jockeys who have not won two flat races since July 1, and provided they have not won five flat races at any time, will be allowed five pounds in the 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th and 8th races.

Several ponies which have changed hands or names since their last races will be raced under their new names and colors this afternoon, including Premiumbond, late Baby Eyes, late Premium Bond; Windercft, late Gas-Meter. Mr. Henry Morriss' Lichfield has been sold to Mr. William McBain with engagements and will race under Mr. McBain's colors today.

Chinese And Foreigners In Cross Country Runs Today

Tommy McKenna's Harriers will begin their Fall training season today starting on a three mile run from the American school at 3, p.m. There will be both fast and slow squads and a full attendance is requested.

Chinese runners aspiring to honors in the Far Eastern Olympiad will have their first work out this afternoon. A cross country run is scheduled over the Kiangwan course starting at 2.30 p.m. from behind the Rifle Range Butts.

Two groups will participate, one for college men who will cover a three mile distance and one for Middle School Men who will cover a two mile course. Some 30 or more men are entered for the first and some 60 for the second. The event is not a closed one, any bona fide Chinese amateur may take part.

The date for the second cross country run is set for December 28. Details will appear later.

Engineers Eleven Strong With Oliveros And Knight; No Change In Club Team

BY "WHISTLE"

With the six first league teams all in action, there should be some interesting play today, but as all teams do not appear in detail, it is difficult to work out the probable results.

The Engineers' team looks a formidable combination, strengthened as it is by the inclusion of Oliveros and Knight. The latter is down to pair with Clark on the wing, but it is open to question whether he will be as valuable at forward as he is at half. He may be one of the versatile players who can do equally well anywhere, but the Engineers will certainly be lucky if he is as good a forward with them as he was a half-back with the Police.

The Club team shows no new blood whatever, and with their strong second, it must be a difficult job for the Selection Committee to settle on the first line.

The forward line shows possibilities, it should be bustling enough to save the Club from that inertia in front of goal which has lost them so many games in the last year or so.

The Recs and Public School may prove an interesting game and if the former turn out in full strength the boys will have a harder game than last week.

Shanghai Recreation Club vs. Public School.

Recs team: A. H. Remedios, E. Turner, J. Xavier, C. J. Smith E. F. Mears, F. C. H. Olliordes sen, G. Johansson, V. Evans, A. Sofoulis, T. Wade, C. Sofoulis.

Shanghai Recreation Club "B" team: G. Borras, F. Witschi, G. Manley, I. Haas, J. Brockett, F. Schlager, F. Hogborne, H. Stacey, A. Roxburgh, G. . Drairs but, W. T. Manley, Reserves; E. Olliford, J. Petterson and E. L. Roberts.

PEKING TO HAVE BIG RACE COURSE OUTSIDE CITY

International Club Secures 335 Acres Outside The Yung Ting Men

Peking is to possess an International race course if the plans of the International Recreation and Race Club go through. According to this organisation, they have secured some 335 acres of land situated outside of Yung Ting Men, about 20 minutes by motor from the Legation Quarter.

The proposed course will be a mile and a half in circumference, and a secondary course will be put on the remaining land. The plans are to make this not a recreation center around which community will grow up.

The backers of the scheme say that in view of the nature of the organisation tending to induce recreation, they have received the approval of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the local authorities.

MACHINE GUN COMPANY GOES INTO CAMP

To Stage Armored Car Practice At Rifle Range Over Sunday

The Machine Gun Company paraded at the Drill Hall on Friday evening preliminary to marching into camp, which is to be held over the week end at the Rifle Range.

During the camp an interesting series of practises will be staged on the Rifle Range with the armored cars and the various arms with which the company is equipped.

Members of the Municipal Council, Mr. Sidney Barton and others have been invited to be present at a special display which will take place at 11 a.m. tomorow. Amongst other features the various detachments will be engaged in dismounting guns from the cars and proceeding into action, mounting again and moving to other fronts, all this being done against time.

Other detachments will be engaged firing at targets appearing at unknown points with the armored cars on the move. During this practise it is expected that one of the Municipal guests will ride inside the turret of each car in order to see more clearly the rapidity with which the destruction of targets is accomplished.

A further demonstration will be that of getting into action with machine gun, rifles and revolvers simultaneously, the two latter being fired through the apertures in the armor plating provided for that purpose. Gun emplacement building and maneuvring of the cars will also be included in the program.

At the close of the demonstration the members of the Municipal Council and Mr. Sidney Barton will be the guests of the Commandant, Col. Marr-Johnson, at tiffin in the mess hut.

The Machine Gunners' Camp held last spring proved to be the most successful ever held and providing the weather holds there seems to be every prospect of this camp being better still.

I went out there to practice, and standing near, nursing the hope that later I would decide to employ another piece caddy to assist the one that I had engaged to retrieve the balls, was "the certain Chinese lad" above mentioned. Standing there with an old iron in his hand, swinging at the grass and itching, apparently, for a crack at one of the balls that was refusing, as usual, to take orders from its owner.

"All right, boy," I said, finally, "let's see you bust one, if you think it's so easy."

And promptly he busted one! I hope my friend Mr. Ferrier won't think I'm spoofing when I say that he's lucky that this Chinese lad does not stand between him and the club championship, for in that case, and based on what I saw the boy do yesterday, the redoubtable Mr. Ferrier, capable as he is, would have a battle on his hands.

This boy stood just inside the race course entrance, fully sixty yards back of the first tee, and drove ball after ball to the first green—with a mashie. And such shots! Low, flattened liners that sped straight as an arrow until just before they began to drop, and then took on that slight hook necessary to give them a roll. Form? Honestly, that boy has more form than Annette Kellerman. His overlapping grip was perfect, with both "V's" pointing over his right shoulder. His right elbow didn't stray an inch from his ribs, and every ounce of his weight was on his left foot at the finish of his perfectly timed swing. On each of a dozen shots the clubhead flicked the ball as cleanly from the grass as Vardon himself could have done it, with that crisp, biting sound that comes only when there is a master's authority at the other end of the club shaft.

When that boy took his stance little golf ball heard a voice speaking—a voice that said: "Little golf ball, get ready to travel, for we're on our way! And don't tarry in your flight, or stray from the line; and don't stop until you get there!"

And notwithstanding the fact that the voice was Chinese little golf ball heard and understood, for an instant later there was a "wham" whereupon little golf ball was on its way with but a single thought in its little rubber cored mind, namely, to reach the offingest part of the offing with the greatest possible degree of directness and despatch.

How come?

Simple enough! Mother Nature, happening along and noticing that this one of her sons was endowed with a lithe body and big, strong, flexible wrists, and taking note of the fact that he derived pleasure from prodding a little white pellet about the landscape when the eagle eyed members of the golf club committee were not looking, and remembering her great Law of Eternal Compensation, whispered to him, although he didn't hear her: "Very well, sonny, if you like that sort of thing, just take a golf club in your hand and I will show you how."

And she did.

Eckersall Reviews Games In Big Ten Conference; Illinois Is Big Surprise

BY WALTER ECKERSALL

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Showing one of the greatest reversals in form in the annals of Western Conference football, Illinois delivered the first real jolt of the present gridiron season by holding the strong Iowa eleven to an 8 to 7 score. This game was easily the feature of the many struggles pulled in all parts of the country on Saturday, although the achievement of Northwestern in playing Minnesota to a 7 to 7 tie was another remarkable performance.

Robert Zuppke, one of the greatest coaches in the game, who has shown resourcefulness so many times that he is respected by every close follower of football did wonders in a week's time. His eleven was defeated by Butler on the previous Saturday, and when everyone, even the majority of Illinois graduates who assembled in Urbana for home-coming, expected to see Illinois smothered by the Hawkeyes, the latter was fortunate to return to Iowa City victor by one point.

The Illinois coach started the season with only three men who had experience in Big Ten games. The majority of the squad was green; but Zuppke decided to teach them that indomitable fighting spirit which has made Illinois teams famous. He succeeded not only in this, but in teaching the men how to tackle and block. It was the two latter qualifications which had so much to do with the result.

Northwestern is also deserving of a deal of credit. The team showed fight, a football aspect conspicuous by its absence in recent Northwestern teams. At times when the situation appeared darkest, Northwestern made a great stand inside its 5-yard line. A Minnesota back fumbled within a yard of the line. Chuck Palmer picked up the ball and ran from goal line to goal line for a touchdown. The extra point was added and seeming defeat was turned into a tie score.

MICHIGAN SPOILS OPENING

Coach Yost of Michigan accomplished what he has been striving for during the last three years. He developed a team which defeated Ohio State, 19 to 0, and practically eliminated the Buckeyes from any claims to the Big Ten championship. Not only did his team win, but the edge was taken off the dedicatory exercise of the opening of the great stadium at Columbus. In fact Yost is a jinx when it comes to this sort of thing, as his teams have placed the soft pedal on the doings at several other places.

The Michigan team was primed for this game. The coach and players have done nothing but talk Ohio since the opening of the season. It was not only the aim of Yost to beat Coach Wilce and his team, but also a number of the players who opposed the Buckeyes on former occasions. It was a great victory for Michigan and Yost.

Wisconsin opened its conference schedule with an easy victory over Indiana, 20 to 0. The Badgers failed to get together early in the contest, but once under way they crossed the chalk marks easily. The Badgers will not play next Saturday, but the intervening two weeks will be devoted to preparation for the Minnesota struggle at Minneapolis, on November 4. Head Coach John Richards and his staff will take in the Minnesota-Ohio State, and Chicago-Princeton games.

CHICAGO IS SLOPPY

Chicago played sloppy football against Purdue, which succumbed to a 12 to 0 defeat. Coach Stagg apparently wanted to win the game as easily as possible without showing any of his stuff or taking serious chances with any of his first-string players. The Maroons have been pointed for the Princeton game since the opening of practice.

Notre Dame showed fast improvement by winning from De Pauw, 34 to 7. Nebraska, one of the strongest elevens in the Missouri Valley Conference, gave further indications of its strength by winning from Missouri, 48 to 0.

Nebraska and Notre Dame will clash at Lincoln on Thanksgiving day in one of the biggest games of the year west of the Mississippi river.

In the East all games with the exception of the Dartmouth-Vermont struggle resulted as generally expected. Vermont defeated the Hanover eleven, 6 to 3, while Princeton won from Maryland, 26 to 0.

British Women's Association

The following ladies have joined the Association since our last announcement: Mrs. E. W. H. Carpenter, Miss V. Elias, Mrs. C. W. Hampson, Mrs. H. M. Mann, Miss A. Pearson, Mrs. G. Pollock, Miss T. Randall, Mrs. F. Reyden, Mrs. Robert Rose, Miss A. Salvesen, Miss M. Seaborn, Mrs. Grant Wallace, Miss J. I. Carnaghan, Mrs. C. M. Howard, Mrs. David Leigh, Miss Marie Lintilhac, Mrs. Gertrude Mcliony, Mrs. Allan Mackenzie and Miss I. Spottiswoode.

The rooms at Headquarters will until further notice, be available for the use of members and their friends in the evening until 11 o'clock. This being somewhat in the nature of an experiment, members wishing to take advantage of this arrangement are asked to communicate with the Secretaries before 5 p.m. (Saturdays before noon) on such days as they may require the rooms.

A very charming exhibition of pictures is on view at Headquarters to the public as well as to members. These are woodcuts of pictures by Miss Elizabeth Keith and deal in the main with Korean subjects. The color effects produced are delicately beautiful and the selection of subjects entirely artistic. The pictures (framed) are for sale and range from a few dollars upwards. The Association is to be congratulated on the election of a new member capable of bringing together a most attractive and interesting "one-man show."

The resignation of Mrs. J Darroch from the Executive Committee on her departure for Canada has been received with great regret by her colleagues.

SOCIAL SERVICE BOARD

Mrs. Charles Gordon Mackie has been elected to the Chairmanship of the Social Service Board in the place of Mrs. O. M. Green who has resigned on account of the increasing number of calls on her time. The Taichow Relief Fund, as was recently stated, closed when it reached the sum total of $543.59 but the following donation of $27 has been accepted under circumstances which it was impossible to deny. The girls of what may truly be considered as one of the finest schools in China, belonging to the C.M.S. in Foochow, on learning that British women in Shanghai were raising a fund in aid of Chinese sufferers from the floods, decided that they would hold a "self-denial week" and the money referred to in large part resulted from their entirely voluntary self-denial in the matter of food.

The Hospitals Aid Department continues its activities but could do with a good many more workers. The result of last Tuesday's meeting was sent to Amoy and the week previously a fine batch of bandages was despatched to the Mission Hospital at Foochow in which but a week or two ago were no less than 300 wounded soldiers. The Chinese girls in the School just referred to had also contributed in like manner. The H. A. Dept. has lost an excellent worker by the resignation of the Hon. Secretary, Miss M. Macfarlane, who it is to be hoped may in less strenuous times resume this position.

GARDENING SECTION

A general meeting of members of this Section will be held at Mrs. Craddock's House, 76 Route de Say Zong, at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 21. All members should make a point of attending since there are certain important decisions to be arrived at. Members should note that the time of the next lecture, "Greenhouse work," by Mr. D. MacGregor, has been changed from 5 to 3:30 p.m. on account of the shortening days. The lecture is to take place at the Reserve Garden, Soochow Road, on November 24.

SPORTS SECTION

The Committee of the Sports Section have decided to bring it into line with other B. W. A. Sections in charging a fee of one dollar per annum to each member as subscription. Special subscriptions of $1 for Hockey and $3 for Badminton have been arranged. Badminton will be played on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at the Girls' Public School, 28 Boone Road from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. and play has already commenced. Shuttlecocks are provided by the Section.

Hockey has been arranged for regular Thursday afternoons and on Saturdays from time to time. Members wishing to play hockey should communicate with the Hon. Secretary, Miss Adlam, giving the position in which they prefer to play on the field and also stating whether they can play on Thursdays and Saturdays. Subscriptions should be forwarded to the Hon. Treasurer, Mrs. Bichard, 27 Kiaochow Road, or under cover to her at Headquarters (9 Kiukiang Road).

The Revolver Match between the S. M. Police Reserve and members of the Sports Section took place at the Town Hall on Nov. 3, and resulted in a win to B. W. A. by 244 points, both the highest and the lowest scores made by the ladies being higher than the highest and the lowest by the men. Mr. A. H. Hallam, on behalf of the S. M. P. R. presented Mrs. T. R. Anderson with a silver trophy for having made the highest score—164 out of h.p.s. 200. Section wish to record their most cordial appreciation and thanks in connection with Mr. Freeman's able coaching of their team, to Mr. Hallam for his courtesy and kindness in arranging and organising the match and to Mr. Fairbairn who worked indefatigably as official scorer. The names of members competing, in order of their scores are as follows: Mrs. T. R. Anderson, Mrs. J. E. Hargreaves, Miss I. Harris, Mrs. G. H. Wright, Mrs. C. H. Ryde, Mrs. C. D. Pearson, Mrs. R. M. Saker, Mrs. H. M. Mann, and Mrs. R. N. Truman.

LITERARY SECTION

Mrs. Billinghurst has been elected Chairman of the Literary Section vice Mrs. Couling resigned. The next fixture of the Section is for November 21, when Miss Alice Ware will read a paper on "The Russian Modern Novel."

MUSICAL SECTION

The Committee of the Musical Section, who are arranging a Gilbert and Sullivan evening on December 14, would be greatly obliged for the loan of some vocal scores of "The Yeoman of the Guard." Anyone possessing such are invited to communicate with Mrs. Godby, Hon. Secretary of the Musical Section, at headquarters (9 Kinkiang Road).

NEEDLECRAFT SECTION

A Sale of Work will be held by the Needlework Section on Monday, December 11, when the public as well as members will be admitted free. The sale will be open during the whole day. Tea will be provided through the kindness of Mrs. T. Webster, when a charge of 50 cents for adults and 30 cents for children will be made. Children's toys will be a specialty of the sale and there is also to be a well furnished Christmas Tree. Members (and others) are invited to make a point of seeing these before purchasing their Xmas. presents elsewhere. A Lingerie and Linen stall will deal in beautiful articles moderately priced. Novelties from Home, woollen goods, hats and flowers will also be on sale. All members are asked to help the success of the sale either by purchasing or by sending a gift, or both, or by working in the Section before and on the date fixed for it and especially are they asked to do what they can to make it known to their friends.

SISTER SOCIETIES

The Union Church Ladies' Society will hold their Annual Sale of Work on Saturday, December 2, when the bulk of the proceeds are to be given for the benefit of the Limbless Soldiers and Sailors. Contributions, and it is up to each one of us, surely, to send just something for such a cause, may be forwarded to Mrs. M. A. Youngson, 1 Boundary Terrace.

B. W. A. members are reminded that the Kings Daughters provide the most delectable plum puddings and mince-meat in the Far East. Orders for these will be received at the B. W. A. Headquarters as well as by the K. D. S. and should be given before December 15. Prices for these are moderate indeed when considered in relation to the excellence of the materials used.

Tablet In Memory Of Physician To Be Unveiled Today

(China Press Service)

Peking, November 14.—A tablet in memory of Dr. H. V. Wenham, was unveiled in the Auditorium of the Peking Union Medical College on Friday, at 5 o'clock. Dr. Houghton presided over the short ceremony.

Dr. Wenham joined the Union Medical College shortly after its foundation. He was a man of singular personal gifts and his ideals of medical education, together with his indefatigable work, achieved more for the College during those early years than was perhaps accomplished by any other one man. He died in the Peking Hospital in 1914.

MACHINE GUN COMPANY GOES INTO CAMP

To Stage Armored Car Practice At Rifle Range Over Sunday

The Machine Gun Company paraded at the Drill Hall on Friday evening preliminary to marching into camp, which is to be held over the week end at the Rifle Range.

During the camp an interesting series of practises will be staged on the Rifle Range with the armored cars and the various arms with which the company is equipped.

Members of the Municipal Council, Mr. Sidney Barton and others have been invited to be present at a special display which will take place at 11 a.m. tomorow. Amongst other features the various detachments will be engaged in dismounting guns from the cars and proceeding into action, mounting again and moving to other fronts, all this being done against time.

Other detachments will be engaged firing at targets appearing at unknown points with the armored cars on the move. During this practise it is expected that one of the Municipal guests will ride inside the turret of each car in order to see more clearly the rapidity with which the destruction of targets is accomplished.

A further demonstration will be that of getting into action with machine gun, rifles and revolvers simultaneously, the two latter being fired through the apertures in the armor plating provided for that purpose. Gun emplacement building and maneuvring of the cars will also be included in the program.

At the close of the demonstration the members of the Municipal Council and Mr. Sidney Barton will be the guests of the Commandant, Col. Marr-Johnson, at tiffin in the mess hut.

The Machine Gunners' Camp held last spring proved to be the most successful ever held and providing the weather holds there seems to be every prospect of this camp being better still.

The Dog Watch

I went out there to practice, and standing near, nursing the hope that later I would decide to employ another piece caddy to assist the one that I had engaged to retrieve the balls, was "the certain Chinese lad" above mentioned. Standing there with an old iron in his hand, swinging at the grass and itching, apparently, for a crack at one of the balls that was refusing, as usual, to take orders from its owner.

"All right, boy," I said, finally, "let's see you bust one, if you think it's so easy."

And promptly he busted one!

I hope my friend Mr. Ferrier won't think I'm spoofing when I say that he's lucky that this Chinese lad does not stand between him and the club championship, for in that case, and based on what I saw the boy do yesterday, the redoubtable Mr. Ferrier, capable as he is, would have a battle on his hands.

This boy stood just inside the race course entrance, fully sixty yards back of the first tee, and drove ball after ball to the first green—with a mashie. And such shots! Low, nattened liners that sped straight as an arrow until just before they began to drop, and then took on that slight hook necessary to give them a roll. Form? Honestly, that boy has more form than Annette Kellerman. His overlapping grip was perfect, with both "V's" pointing over his right shoulder. His right elbow didn't stray an inch from his ribs, and every ounce of his weight was on his left foot at the finish of his perfectly timed swing. On each of a dozen shots the clubhead flicked the ball as cleanly from the grass as Vardon himself could have done it, with that crisp, biting sound that comes only when there is a master's authority at the other end of the club shaft.

When that boy took his stance little golf ball heard a voice speaking—a voice that said: "Little golf ball, get ready to travel, for we're on our way! And don't tarry in your flight, or stray from the line; and don't stop until you get there!"

And notwithstanding the fact that the voice was Chinese little golf ball heard and understood, for an instant later there was a "wham" whereupon little golf ball was on its way with but a single thought in its little rubber cored mind, namely, to reach the offingest part of the offing with the greatest possible degree of directness and despatch.

How come?

Simple enough! Mother Nature, happening along and noticing that this one of her sons was endowed with a lithe body and biz. strong, flexible wrists, and taking note of the fact that he derived pleasure from prodding a little white pellet about the landscape when the eagle eyed members of the golf club committee were not looking, and remembering her great Law of Eternal Compensation, whispered to him, although he didn't hear her: "Very well, sonny, if you like that sort of thing, just take a golf club in your hand and I will show you how."

And she did.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Showing one of the greatest reversals in form in the annals of Western Conference football, Illinois delivered the first real jolt of the present gridiron season by holding the strong Iowa eleven to an 8 to 7 score. This game was easily the feature of the many struggles pulled in all parts of the country on Saturday, although the achievement of Northwestern in playing Minnesota to a 7 to 7 tie was another remarkable performance.

Robert Zuppke, one of the greatest coaches in the game, who has shown resourcefulness so many times that he is respected by every close follower of football did wonders in a week's time. His eleven was defeated by Butler on the previous Saturday, and when everyone, even the majority of Illinois graduates who assembled in Urbana for home-coming, expected to see Illinois smothered by the Hawkeyes, the latter was fortunate to return to Iowa City victor by one point.

The Illinois coach started the season with only three men who had experience in Big Ten games. The majority of the squad was green; but Zuppke decided to teach them that indomitable fighting spirit which has made Illinois teams famous. He succeeded not only in this, but in teaching the men how to tackle and block. It was the two latter qualifications which had so much to do with the result.

Northwestern is also deserving of a deal of credit. The team showed fight, a football aspect conspicuous by its absence in recent Northwestern teams. At times when the situation appeared darkest, Northwestern made a great stand inside its 5-yard line. A Minnesota back fumbled within a yard of the line. Chuck Palmer picked up the ball and ran from goal line to goal line for a touchdown. The extra point was added and seeming defeat was turned into a tie score.

MICHIGAN SPOILS OPENING

Coach Yost of Michigan accomplished what he has been striving for during the last three years. He developed a team which defeated Ohio State, 19 to 0, and practically eliminated the Buckeyes from any claims to the Big Ten championship. Not only did his team win, but the edge was taken off the dedicatory exercise of the opening of the great stadium at Columbus. In fact Yost is a jinx when it comes to this sort of thing, as his teams have placed the soft pedal on the doings at several other places.

The Michigan team was primed for this game. The coach and players have done nothing but talk Ohio since the opening of the season. It was not only the aim of Yost to beat Coach Wilce and his team, but also a number of the players who opposed the Buckeyes on former occasions. It was a great victory for Michigan and Yost.

Wisconsin opened its conference schedule with an easy victory over Indiana, 20 to 0. The Badgers failed to get together early in the contest, but once under way they crossed the chalk marks easily. The Badgers will not play next Saturday, but the intervening two weeks will be devoted to preparation for the Minnesota struggle at Minneapolis, on November 4. Head Coach John Richards and his staff will take in the Minnesota-Ohio State, and Chicago-Princeton games.

CHICAGO IS SLOPPY

Chicago played sloppy football against Purdue, which succumbed to a 12 to 0 defeat. Coach Stagg apparently wanted to win the game as easily as possible without showing any of his stuff or taking serious chances with any of his first-string players. The Maroons have been pointed for the Princeton game since the opening of practice.

Notre Dame showed fast improvement by winning from De Pauw, 34 to 7. Nebraska, one of the strongest elevens in the Missouri Valley Conference, gave further indications of its strength by winning from Missouri, 48 to 0.

Nebraska and Notre Dame will clash at Lincoln on Thanksgiving day in one of the biggest games of the year west of the Mississippi river.

In the East all games with the exception of the Dartmouth-Vermont struggle resulted as generally expected. Vermont defeated the Hanover eleven, 6 to 3, while Princeton won from Maryland, 26 to 0.

Things to be thankful for—

British Women's Association

The following ladies have joined the Association since our last announcement: Mrs. E. W. H. Carpenter, Miss V. Elias, Mrs. C. W. Hampson, Mrs. H. M. Mann, Miss A. Pearson, Mrs. G. Pollock, Miss T. Randall, Mrs. F. Reyden, Mrs. Robert Rose, Miss A. Salvesen, Miss M. Seaborn, Mrs. Grant Wallace, Miss J. I. Carnaghan, Mrs. C. M. Howard, Mrs. David Leigh, Miss Marie Lintilhac, Mrs. Gertrude Mciony, Mrs. Allan Mackenzie and Miss I. Spottiswoode.

The rooms at Headquarters will until further notice be available for the use of members and their friends in the evening until 11 o'clock. This being somewhat in the nature of an experiment, members wishing to take advantage of this arrangement are asked to communicate with the Secretaries before 5 p.m. (Saturdays before noon) on such days as they may require the rooms.

A very charming exhibition of pictures is on view at Headquarters to the public as well as to members. These are woodcuts of pictures by Miss Elizabeth Keith and deal in the main with Korean subjects. The color effects produced are delicately beautiful and the selection of subjects entirely artistic. The pictures (framed) are for sale and range from a few dollars upwards. The Association is to be congratulated on the election of a new member capable of bringing together a most attractive and interesting "one-man show."

The resignation of Mrs. J. Darroch from the Executive Committee on her departure for Canada has been received with great regret by her colleagues.

SOCIAL SERVICE BOARD

Mrs. Charles Gordon Mackie has been elected to the Chairmanship of the Social Service Board in the place of Mrs. O. M. Green who has resigned on account of the increasing number of calls on her time. The Taichow Relief Fund, as was recently stated, closed when it reached the sum total of $543.59, but the following donation of $27 has been accepted under circumstances which it was impossible to deny. The girls of what may truly be considered as one of the finest schools in China, belonging to the C.M.S. in Foochow, on learning that British women in Shanghai were raising a fund in aid of Chinese sufferers from the floods, decided that they would hold a "self-denial week" and the money referred to in large part resulted from their entirely voluntary self-denial in the matter of food.

The Hospitals Aid Department continues its activities but could do with a good many more workers. The result of last Tuesday's meeting was sent to Amoy and the week previously a fine batch of bandages was despatched to the Mission Hospital at Foochow in which but a week or two ago were no less than 300 wounded soldiers. The Chinese girls in the School just referred to had also contributed in like manner. The H. A. Dept. has lost an excellent worker by the resignation of the Hon. Secretary, Miss M. Macfarlane, who it is to be hoped may in less strenuous times resume this position.

GARDENING SECTION

A general meeting of members of this Section will be held at Mrs. Craddock's House, 76 Route de Say Zong, at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 21. All members should make a point of attending since there are certain important decisions to be arrived at. Members should note that the time of the next lecture, "Greenhouse work," by Mr. D. MacGregor, has been changed from 5 to 3:30 p.m. on account of the shortening days. The lecture is to take place at the Reserve Garden, Soochow Road, on November 24.

SPORTS SECTION

The Committee of the Sports Section have decided to bring it into line with other B. W. A. Sections in charging a fee of one dollar per annum to each member as subscription. Special subscriptions of $1 for Hockey and $3 for Badminton have been arranged. Badminton will be played on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at the Girls' Public School, 28 Boone Road from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. and play has already commenced. Shuttlecocks are provided by the Section.

Hockey has been arranged for regular Thursday afternoons and on Saturdays from time to time. Members wishing to play hockey should communicate with the Hon. Secretary, Miss Adlam, giving the position in which they prefer to play on the field and also stating whether they can play on Thursdays and Saturdays. Subscriptions should be forwarded to the Hon. Treasurer, Mrs. Bichard, 27 Kiaochow Road, or under cover to her at Headquarters (9 Kiukiang Road).

The Revolver Match between the S. M. Police Reserve and members of the Sports Section took place at the Town Hall on Nov. 3, and resulted in a win to B. W. A. by 244 points, both the highest and the lowest scores made by the ladies being higher than the highest and the lowest by the men. Mr. A. H. Hallam, on behalf of the S. M. P. R. presented Mrs. T. R. Anderson with a silver trophy for having made the highest score—164 out of h.p.s. 200. Section wish to record their most cordial appreciation and thanks in connection with Mr. Freeman's able coaching of their team, to Mr. Hallam for his courtesy and kindness in arranging and organising the match and to Mr. Fairbairn who worked indefatigably as official scorer. The names of members competing, in order of their scores are as follows: Mrs. T. R. Anderson, Mrs. J. E. Hargreaves, Miss I. Harris, Mrs. G. H. Wright, Mrs. C. H. Ryde, Mrs. C. D. Pearson, Mrs. R. M. Saker, Mrs. H. M. Mann, and Mrs. R. N. Truman.

LITERARY SECTION

Mrs. Billinghurst has been elected Chairman of the Literary Section vice Mrs. Couling resigned. The next fixture of the Section is for November 21, when Miss Alice Ware will read a paper on "The Russian Modern Novel."

MUSICAL SECTION

The Committee of the Musical Section, who are arranging a Gilbert and Sullivan evening on December 14, would be greatly obliged for the loan of some vocal scores of "The Yeoman of the Guard." Anyone possessing such are invited to communicate with Mrs. Godby, Hon. Secretary of the Musical Section, at headquarters (9 Kiukiang Road).

NEEDLECRAFT SECTION

A Sale of Work will be held by the Needlework Section on Monday, December 11, when the public as well as members will be admitted free. The sale will be open during the whole day. Tea will be provided through the kindness of Mrs. T. Webster, when a charge of 50 cents for adults and 30 cents for children will be made. Children's toys will be a specialty of the sale and there is also to be a well furnished Christmas Tree. Members (and others) are invited to make a point of seeing these before purchasing their Xmas. presents elsewhere. A Lingerie and Linen stall will deal in beautiful articles moderately priced. Novelties from Home, woollen goods, hats and flowers will also be on sale. All members are asked to help the success of the sale either by purchasing or by sending a gift, or both, or by working in the Section before and on the date fixed for it and especially are they asked to do what they can to make it known to their friends.

SISTER SOCIETIES

The Union Church Ladies' Society will hold their Annual Sale of Work on Saturday, December 2, when the bulk of the proceeds are to be given for the benefit of the Limbless Soldiers and Sailors. Contributions, and it is up to each one of us, surely, to send just something for such a cause, may be forwarded to Mrs. M. A. Youngson, 1 Boundary Terrace.

B. W. A. members are reminded that the Kings Daughters provide the most delectable plum puddings and mince-meat in the Far East. Orders for these will be received at the B. W. A. Headquarters as well as by the K. D. S. and should be given before December 15. Prices for these are moderate indeed when considered in relation to the excellence of the materials used.

Shanghai Market Review

Metals

Viewed as a whole business in the metals market of Shanghai during the week has been better than for the past few weeks. There has been an improvement in the local demand, more orders booked this week, especially so in galvanised sheets and in tubes. Outside of these two items there has been nothing much doing. There is still no demand from Harbin and Vladivostok, and all the business put through this week has been for local consumption. Some 500 tons of pig iron arrived during the period under review.

The steady importation of electrolytic copper from Japan has now ceased entirely, but of late it would seem that Dairen has been drawing upon Japan for supplies of this metal. The metals market in Japan appears to be better, for outside of Government and municipal inquiries American manufacturers have been receiving orders from merchants. Some business in steel gas pipe of various specifications and light gage black sheets is reported to have been put through with the United States.

German quotations on steel to Japan are still considerably below the best prices obtainable from British makers. There has been fairly large importations of late of copper into Japan from the United States. Stocks of electrolytic copper in the Japanese market has have declined from 20,000 tons in April to 10,000 at the present time.

The electrolytic copper market in America and England continues a steady course with prices neither up or down in many weeks, and there is no get-up to export business.

The London market has been fairly active during the week with a certain amount of irregularity but the underlying conditions denote a firm tone. There has been a report prevailing that the liquidation of a certain portion of the tin holdings of the Federated Malay States would soon be witnessed on the London Metals Exchange but this has now been officially denied. The opinion in iron and steel circles in London seems to favor the idea that the Federated Malay States' stock of tin will be liquidated in the ordinary course of business, and it would not interfere with the stability of the tin market.

It would be a mistake, says the "Iron Age," to conclude that the decision of the Consolidated Steel Corporation to go out of business means that American iron and steel manufacturers are to be thought of hearafter as less determined to reach out for a share of the outer world's trade in the products of their industries. The export subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation is prosecuting as ever its plans for the marketing of a portion of its output in other countries. The Bethlehem Steel Company, since its acquisition of the Lackawanna Steel Company, had taken steps to form its own expert company.

There is a better tone in the copper and lead markets of London. Indications point to a further improvement in the consumption of lead, while English production is slowly developing as well.

Latest London quotations for some principal lines are these:

Standard copper £63.10.0 for spot and £64⅜ future.

Electrolytic copper £70¾ spot and £71½ future.

Tin £180⅛ spot and £181 future.

Lead £26⅝ spot and £25⅛ future.

Spelter £38¾ against £39¼ last week for spot and £36¾ against £36⅞ for future delivery.

China Produce

The serious decline in exchange during the week has helped to elicit inquiries from England and America for some North China products.

Some business was done this week in soya beans for local needs round about Tls. 3.50 per picul for spot cargo.

The vegetable oil market is looking much better. There have been exports of soya bean oil to South China, and also of peanut oil, in which a good trade was done this week. China wood oil is steady, and rape seed oil is higher. There are no stocks in Shanghai of Chinese horsebeans. The quotation stands nominally at Tls. 2.80 per picul.

The market for sessamum seeds is easier, the rate biting Tls. 6.40 per picul. For rape seeds there is an inquiry from Japan and business has been done at Tls. 5.20 per picul.

For peanuts there is no demand at all. The new crop is above the average, and came on the market at the end of last month. The Shantung crop amounts to 80 percent of a normal year, or something under 270,000 tons.

According to the latest news from Tsingtau, the quantity of new groundnuts, on the market there, is rather small so far, while Canton merchants are buying actively, with the result that the price has improved by 50 sen as compared with last week. The average production of groundnuts in Shantung for the past five years amounted to 300,000 tons gross, or 170,000 tons net.

Originally soya bean oil from Manchuria was an article of export to Europe and was no shipped to the United States, because of the high rate of import duty. The American Consul at Harbin has already given notice to the Harbin Chamber of Commerce that duty would be imposed on soya beans exported to America.

There is a little more trade in cakes and powder than for some weeks past. Cotton seen cake powder has been in demand, and the week's transactions totalled some 10,000 bales, at the rate of Tls. 2.30 per picul. The market closed quiet. The buying was for export to Japan.

Rape seed cakes with straw is rated at Tls. 2.20 and those without straw at Tls. 2.40 per picul. No business in these is recorded, but the market is steady.

There is very little doing in peanut cakes, but a fair volume of business in bean cakes has transpired, principally for export to South China, at Tls. 1.60 per piece.

The London and New York markets for North China products are steady. The quotations on the London Produce Exchange for some of the principal lines are:

Chinese unshelled handpicked selected peanuts—20/ per cwt. December-January shipment, buyers.

Chinese shelled peanuts fag—19/3 January-February shipment, cif London.

Japanese peas—27/9 buyers.

Chinese gallnuts—59/ November shipment, old crop, against 81/ last week.

Rape seed—17⅝ per ton, cif London, November-December shipment, buyers.

Soya Bean—10½ per ton, cif London, December-January shipment, buyers.

Liquid China Hen Yolk—107/6 cwt for old season's prime.

China green vegetable tallow—10/ per cwt. November-December shipment, cif London.

China Wood Oil—13 cents per lb.

Refined Peanut Oil—12½ cents per lb. against 12 cents per lb.

Soya Bean Oil—9½ cents per lb. against 9 cents.

Crude Cotton Oil—8 3-8 cents per lb. against 8 cents per lb. last week.

Refined Rapeseed Oil—78 cents per gallon.

Weather Report

Nov. 16.—High pressures central over eastern Mongolia. The depression is passing eastward by Southern Kiusiu. The typhoon is recurving while crossing the 22 parallel off S. Eastern Formosa. Strong Northerly winds in the North: cyclonic circulation between our coasts and Kiusiu. Cloudy weather getting colder and clearing up after sunset in our Valley. Rainy in Northern Luzon.

Nov. 17.—Fine and cool weather High and steady pressure. Northerly breezes.

Coal Market

In their fortnightly report on the coal market, Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows:

Japan Coal.—A fair amount of business has been done on this market during the past fortnight and numerous inquiries are coming in for prompt delivery; sellers, however, are finding great difficulty in meeting these inquiries owing to the steady run on and consequent shortage of Japan coals more or less throughout the whole of this year which has been brought about by a steadily increasing demand for coal in Japan itself as well as by the shortage of supplies of coal from Chinwangtao in consequence of military disturbances, strikes, etc.

With regard to negotiations for next year's supplies which are now in train, it is only natural to expect that should this severe shortage of coal continue it must have an adverse effect on next year's prices.

Fuchung Anthracite.—Business has been brisk owing to the approach of the Winter season and prices continue firm.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

November 17, 1922

Spot bar silver was down ⅝d. and forward 9-16d. in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 69½ cents and the London-New York cross rate improved to 447½.

Our official Sterling rate here this morning was dropped to 3-1¼, the Gold Dollar rate to 69⅝, and the Yen rate raised to 69⅝ and the other rates changed accordingly. While business was done at widely varying rates throughout the morning our market on the whole was steady.

In the early part of the morning business in Sterling was done as low as 3s. 1⅛d. for November-December delivery and in Gold Dollars at 70⅝ November, 70½ December and 70⅝ for forward.

These were the lowest rates at which business was done and in the afternoon speculators became strong sellers with the result that the market firmed up until as high as 3s. 2⅛d. for November - December - January Sterling was done, and 71⅜ for forward Gold Dollars.

Just before the close the market eased off somewhat, there being strong buyers at these rates. The market, however, closed steady with sellers of Sterling at 3s. 2d. up to January and for Gold Dollars at 70⅝ November, 70⅞ December and 71 for forward delivery.

There were sellers of Yen at the close at 68¼ for December-January delivery and buyers at 68⅛. Banks were quoting 3s. 2⅜d. for Sterling bills, 72¾ for Gold Dollar bills and 1050 for Franc bills.

China banks sold silver heavily in London yesterday and the market is reported to have closed easy. New York also report their market as easy with sellers at the official rate.

The Financial Situation In The United States

The following report on American business conditions for October arrived on the steamer President McKinley. It is published by special arrangement with the National Bank of Commerce of New York.

Business is better, and there is a growing undertone of confidence which approaches optimism. Physical evidence is loadings of revenue freight now near their record levels. While part of this is due to gains in loadings of coal, loadings of merchandise and miscellaneous freight are in excess of loadings for the corresponding weeks both of last year and of 1920. There have been considerable increases in the rates of production in most lines of manufacture. Some industries are handicapped by car shortage and others, notably the automobile manufacturers, and makers of tires and automobile accessories, are experiencing the usual seasonal slackening of demand.

Considering the country as a whole, retail and wholesale trade probably are better than a year ago, but conditions vary a good deal in the different localities. In the cotton states, where the crop is moving rapidly, notable improvement has taken place. Trade is also showing marked activity in the industrial towns and cities of the East and the upper Mississippi Valley, as a result of full employment at rising wages, but there is much doubt as to how good demand will be in those regions where trade is primarily dependent on conditions in the grain-growing and live-stock industries.

Thus far, business expansion has been on sound lines. Manufacturers and merchants have placed forward orders cautiously and only after the most careful consideration of probable future demands. There has been no material change during recent months in the ratio between deposits and loans and investments of member banks, and commercial loans show only a very moderate expansion. The same is true of the volume of Federal reserve notes in circulation, and even though recent increases in discounts of member banks with the Federal reserve system seem great when measured by the low levels, their total volume on October 4 was only one-fifth of their amount at the nearest corresponding date of 1921.

The critical stage of the recovery from the depression of 1920-21 has now been reached, however, and some tendencies of a disturbing character are beginning to appear, chief among which are the rapid upward movement of prices and of wages. During the ten years from 1903 to 1913, comparative peace prevailed throughout the world, and while temporary depressions were experienced, it is probable that the general level of comfort was higher than at any preceding period. During those ten years the rise in the general price level of the United States as measured by the wholesale price index of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics was 18 percent. Despite the general prosperity, and the fact that price increases were fairly uniform for the main groups of commodities, this rise in prices was regarded as so disturbing as to give rise to numerous investigations of the causes of the high cost of living and its resultant unrest.

The same wholesale price index shows an increase of 12 percent in the eight months from January 1922 to August, 1922. Wages are also rising. As individual employers and groups of industries bid against each other, wage increases are certain to be felt in stimulated retail and wholesale trade. There is danger that as a result of this and some other factors, the prices of consumers' goods will rise so rapidly as to present a mirage of approaching prosperity.

The hysterical pseudo-prosperity of 1919-20 ran a long course because it was part of a world-wide movement. It is useless to harbor illusions about any similar movement which might develop now as a result of the present psychology of rising prices and wages. World-wide conditions are not favorable to any such development. The present upward movement of prices and wages in the United States is not and can not be uniform, for the fundamental reason that prices of all those commodities and classes of goods the surplus of which must be sold on the international markets, are determined by conditions in these markets. It is obvious that the farmer's purchases of implements, fertilizer, automobiles, dry goods and all classes of commodities are necessarily limited when the wages of a city laborer for one six-day week at $5 per day are equivalent to the gross selling price of two good hogs or twenty-five bushels of wheat.

It is now to be demonstrated as to whether the combined judgment of the business community of the United States is wise enough and far-seeing enough to prevent developments which could only too easily nullify all the progress made thus far toward real prosperity. The situation calls for careful discrimination between expansion of demand which is evidence of the slow and normal recovery from business depression and demand which reflects purely temporary conditions; courage to resist the tendency to bid for labor and materials at rapidly rising wages and prices; and far-sightedness enough to be willing to forego the temptation of immediate profits which might be made on a rapidly rising market for the sake of permanent prosperity and the avoidance of disaster.

While the bond market has been less active during the last thirty days and prices have receded moderately, there continues to be a strong underlying demand for good investment issues. The decline in the general level of bond prices is not primarily the result of hesitation on the part of permanent investors or a symptom of saturation of the market. It is rather a reflection of the gradual elimination of speculative and temporary influences. Throughout the period of cheap money and rapidly rising prices, there was a heavy absorption of securities for the purpose of making immediate profits. Anticipation of an increased need for money for the financing of manufacturing and merchandising operations and the decreasing attractiveness of investments in bonds, except from the longer viewpoint, has resulted in a considerable selling of securities by temporary holders. Declines that have taken place are a wholesome indication of a gradual return to normal conditions in the bond market and its domination by demand from investors.

Piece Goods

There is a decidedly improved enquiry for stocks of Greys and Whites—advances have been both asked and paid, but this barely compensates for lower Exchange rates ruling and leaves us no better on vis-a-vis replacing costs. Demand this week emanates from Hankow and Tientsin and Dealers begin to realise that as forward business is unlikely during the coming few months, stocks should appreciate in value and will be insufficient if the Spring demand proves good. This depends wholly upon the Political situation; given peace and quiet and a return of confidence among up-country Merchants we shall experience a steady Trade demand, as stocks in the interior are extremely light. Clearances continue good.

American cotton is quoted at 15.65, and Egyptian at 19.15. The few quotations for cloth record slight advances, and makers are reported to be firm at these quotations.

Forward business is consequently confined to specialites and is very limited. There seems no prospect at the moment of connecting in Greys and Whites, prices being ten to 15 percent above local values.

New American Policies

THE retirement of many of the United States Senate's oldest and most influential standbys—in both the Republican and Democratic ranks—either through a refusal to stand for re-election, or defeat in the surprising upheaval that has just swept the country in the Congressional elections, coupled with vacancies caused by the death of several senators, will cause a revision of the important committees of the Senate that cannot do otherwise than cause a change in American policies, both internal and international, in the next Congress.

The Committee on agriculture and Forestry, which played an important role in Senate activities in the last Congress because of the prominence of the Farm Bloc loses two members, Senator Carroll S. Page, Republican, of Vermont, and Senator William S. Kenyon, Republican, of Iowa, leader of the Farm Bloc, who was appointed to a Federal judgeship at opportune moment that ended his leadership of the bloc. In the next Congress this important committee will be headed by Senator Norriss of Nebraska, and be composed of McNary of Oregon, Capper of Kansas, Keyes of New Hampshire, Gooding of Idaho, Ladd of North Dakota, Norbeck of South Dakota, Smith of South Carolina, Randell of Louisiana, Kenrick of Wyoming, Harrison of Mississippi, Heflin of Alabama, and Caraway of Arkansas, with two new Republican members to be selected.

The extremely important Committee on Appropriations loses only one member—Kenyon of Iowa, who retired to accept a judgeship. The committee in the next Congress will be headed by Senator Warren of Wyoming, and composed of Smoot of Utah, Jones of Washington, Curtis of Kansas, Hale of Maine, Spencer of Missouri, Phipps of Colorado, Newberry of Michigan, McKinley of Illinois, Overman of North Carolina, Owen of Oklahoma, Culberson of Texas, Harris of Georgia, Glass of Virginia, and Jones of New Mexico.

The Banking and Currency Committee loses six of its fifteen members. Senator Page of Vermont, Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, Calder of New York, Hitchcock of Nebraska and Pomerene of Ohio were all defeated, and Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania is dead. The new committee will be composed of Senator McLean of Connecticut, chairman, Weller of Maryland, Norback of South Dakota, Shortridge of California, Owen of Oklahoma, Fletcher of Florida, Kenrick of Wyoming and Glass of Virginia. Six new members added to such a committee is bound to introduce new blood from both the Republicans and Democrats which will result in important changes of policy in banking and currency reform in the United States.

The Civil service committee, which may play an important role two years hence, but which merely functions at the present time, will also gain two new members in lieu of Senator Cummins of Iowa and Watson of Georgia, both of whom have died. The Committee on Commerce loses only one member, Calder of New York, and in view of his almost complete harmlessness in the past little change need be expected in that committee.

Education and Labor, coming under the committee of that name in the Senate, are due for a shakeup under the regime of the committee that will take the helm in the next Congress. Through the retirement of Senator Kenyon of Iowa, Senator Borah of Idaho assumes the chairmanship, and Senator Kellog of Minnesota retires through his defeat. The new committee, with two new members, will be made up of Sterling of South Dakota, Phipps of Colorado, Warren of Wyoming, Shortridge of California, Jones of New Mexico, McKellar of Tennessee, Walsh of Massachusetts and Caraway of Arkansas. It will be noted that through the freak of fortune that dictates succession on the committee through seniority Western senators are in control of the committee, and as the West has been more radical than the East the attitude of the committee toward Education and Labor is almost sure to be much more liberal than it has been in the past.

In view of the importance of the future immigration policy of the United States the Committee on Immigration will also assume an important role—and especially in view of the recent decision by the Supreme Court that Japanese are not eligible for naturalisation which may result in action in Congress toward changing the immigration laws to allow their admittance. The committee will be headed by Senator Colt of Rhode Island, and composed of Dillingham of Vermont, Sterling of South Dakota, Johnson of California, Keyes of New Hampshire, Willis of Ohio, Harris of Georgia, and three new members to succeed Watson of Georgia and Penrose of Pennsylvania, who are dead, and King of Utah who retires. A great deal depends on the new members of the committee as at present constituted it is about evenly split between pro and anti-Japanese sentiments.

The Committee on Interoceanic Canals, important just now because of the agitation for a Great Lakes-to-the-sea canal jointly operated by Canada and the United States, is also to be headed by Senator Borah of Idaho, and will be composed of Colt of Rhode Island, Johnson of California, Edge of New Jersey, McKinley of Illinois, Walsh of Montana, Simmons of North Carolina, Trammel of Florida and Ransdell of Louisiana.

"MOVIE PROBLEMS"

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir: I have read several local correspondences on the subject of "movie problems," absence of British films," "better films," etc. So far I have refrained from cutting in; but I feel the public should be enlightened on this , subject especially when this particular industry is interesting to a vast majority of the people in China. However hard an exhibitor may try to please his audience, there are always a few "joy killers" and these same individuals usually see one side of the fence and will not take the trouble to investigate their grievance before making absurd statements.

Shanghai is not the only place where the British desire home productions. The extent to which American films is presented to the movie patrons of other countries has caused real concern in some quarters, but the people go right ahead enjoying the American pictures and perfomers, and consequently getting a better idea of the Americans and their ways. Papers in Canada and India where practically all films are imported from the U. S. A. have consumed columns worrying about how the Stars and the Stripes and American ideals are constantly before their people. England or any other country may have the best stories, the best actors, and the best productions, but if they lack good organisation and location, their films will not be saved from obscurity.

During the war, productions in U. S. A. were partly suspended, while those of England, France, Italy and Germany were almost entirely neglected. Statistics of 1919 gave the American films at more than 273,000,000 feet, valued about $10,000,000. The domestic production was almost 2,000,000,000 feet or enough to encircle the world 16 times and valued about $75,000,000.

I would advise those interested to get the issue of the Motion Picture News of December 27, 1919, where foreign productions are fully discussed in the article "An hour for clear thought."

China offers a new field for exploitation, and unscrupulous film men will not fail to take mean advantage of this golden opportunity by unloading what junk film they can on a market which is blooming. But one cannot be prejudiced or condemn the other fellow undeservedly without being an ass.

Shouting won't bring results. Supremacy cannot be maintained without effort. Effort usually brings success and success is never complete unless you "get the other fellow's goat." Enclosing my card, I am, Sir, Very truly yours,

MOSE.

Finger-Printing The World

If the good work goes on, every living person will in time have his finger-print recorded somewhere, and can, if necessary, be identified by it. Britain has already taken prints of millions of her subjects in India and will extend the system over her Empire. Here in the United States we are finger-printing certain groups, such as depositors in the postal savings banks, and new employes of the post-office are to be printed, followed perhaps by the civil-service staff of the Government. Homer V. Marion, writing in The Illustrated World (Chicago), asserts that his huge task, next to the finger-printing of India's swarming millions, is the biggest single job of the kind yet attempted. Over three hundred and twenty thousand employes of the Post-Office Department are to have their fingertip portraits taken and ultimately the system, it is rumored, is to be extended and will include over half a million civil service workers. Writes Mr. Marion:

"Alarmed by the large number of mail robberies which led to a call upon the marines for protection and which threatened serious disturbance of the government postal service, Uncle Sam has determined to try out finger-print identification as a method of battling the criminals. Investigations have pretty conclusively shown that in some cases mail robberies were planned with the connivance of criminals within the postal system. To safeguard the mails against further similar occurrences, to search out characters in Uncle Sam's employment with a police record, and to start a permanent system that will automatically service as a certain identification, the present task has been put under way.

"Unusually high as the morals of the postal employes has been, the disorganisation that the Great War brought upon all industry and activity of whatever sort struck the post-office too. With the difficult tests that safeguarded the caliber of the men entering the service relaxed to meet the scarcity of applicants during the war, shady elements, it is feared, got their opportunity to bore into the postal organisation, and it is thought that perhaps all of them have not yet been eliminated, but that finger-prints will weed them out as well as provide a means of detecting criminals after the commission of crime.

"The detective part of the service, however, is only one feature. The real importance of this service is to be its use of the scientifically accurate finger prints as a means of permanent record and identification. This sole signature that cannot be forged or disguised will become the permanent mark of the postal employes. It will serve as a means of identification more accurate than any other devised. The post-office file will not be merely a finger-print rogues' gallery, which has been the role such files have largely played until recently, but it will serve as the certain means of identification of all employes in numerous other ways.

"When the news first came out that in time all the postal employes were to be finger-printed, it was thought that this was the largest number of a single institution to be so recorded, and it does happen to be the largest in the U. S., if we except, of course, the records of the records of the associated police systems which probably contain a bigger number of prints, but the police of the United States can hardly be regarded as one organisation. Moreover, they have been finger-printing for over a score of years, while the Post-Office Department is making this handsome show as a beginning."

In India, Mr. Marion goes on to tell us, the whole population has been subjected to the making of this most remarkable file of identifications in the world. It has so vastly simplified and perfected statistical records that the British Government has begun to finger-print the populations of all its other dependencies. In Africa and in its other Asiatic concessions it has made this a feature of colonial administration policy. At home the conservative English citizen will not stand for it. France and Belgium are said to be preparing to institute it not in their foreign possessions but in their domestic administration as well whilst Germany has already begun it. Other countries probably will follow suit. We read further:

"From the office of the Postmaster-General himself down to the humblest week-end assistant the work, it is said, will go on in the United States, the procedure now being part of the regular form of admission of new employes into the post-office system. No definite plans have been made as yet, but it is presumed that they will follow this scheme.

"The original finger-prints of every postal employe, wherever taken, are to be sent to Washington where they will be filed in a central bureau organised for this purpose. Photographs will then be made and sent for filing in the local records of the station to which the person is attached.

"Employes of the steamer mail and railway mail clerks will have their prints and photographs kept directly at Washington. Each time a clerk is transferred his finger-print record will precede him to his new post. It is to be as much a part of his record as his original application.

"When a clerk leaves the government employ he will not be given his prints, as they are to become a permanent record of the department, part of the dead file which, as has been proved again and again, can come startlingly to life on occasion.

"How does it feel to be finger-printed? Several postmen who were questioned didn't see any harm and thought that it would be rather a good thing. To those to whom it was in any way objectionable, custom, they thought, would soon make it acceptable. After a while, when it was no longer a novelty, it would be taken as a matter of course in entering a new job, a piece of routine like a signature.

"The whole operation lasts only about five minutes. A rectangular piece of plate glass is what the generals would call the base of operations. A liberal supply of what looks like ordinary printer's ink, but is really a special preparation, is squeezed out of a tube upon the glass. With a roller such as the hand-press operator uses to spread the ink on a block of type to run off proof sheets, the ink is carefully smoothed over the surface of the glass plate.

"In the post-office record thirteen impressions are taken, one each of all the ten fingers, one each of the two thumbs together. The first ten impressions are what are called the rolled prints and are more accurate than the other three. The finger to be printed is very firmly rolled over the ink on the plate. Then the finger starting from one side to the other is with no gentle pressure rolled over its allotted square of the paper. The tips of the fingers from about half an inch below the first joint are printed.

"A remarkable system of recording has been perfected within recent years by which a cataloged finger-print can be found as easily as a book in a fairly well-kept library. Under the classifications just mentioned and in certain subclassifications the records are kept in such a way that a finger-print can be recognised and made to reveal its information in an incredibly short space of time. If the printing of the postal employes works out as expected, government authorities are asking themselves what it will lead to. It has been stated recently that the census of the future may be taken this way. The nation will thus possess unmistakable, tamper-proof records of all its citizens."

Mr. Harding's Policy On Our Financial Relations Abroad

(New York Herald)

So far as it is revealed President Harding's policy regarding our financial help for Europe exemplifies sound American Government and represents sound American sentiment. This is so as to his stand against American participation now in any economic conferences abroad based on cancellation or modification of our Government war loans to the allied Powers. It is so as to his attitude that the very worst thing this country can do for the war impoverished nations of Europe is to supply them with capital or other resources merely to throw away in gross military squander or other sheer economic waste.

Continental Europe is not going to get on its feet for generations without liberal and continued American cooperation. And American cooperation should be forthcoming promptly and whole heartedly wherever its results will be applied to making two blades of grass grow in the place of one that grows now. To give American financial help in that way is to put Europe on the path to becoming self-supporting and at the same time of use to the rest of the world. But to give American financial help to any country to maintain bankrupting military establishments is not merely to burn up good American money; it is to keep alive the torches that flare over the powder magazines of the Old World.

As for President Harding's opinion that our participation in European conferences and arrangements that are purely economic is a question separate and distinct from plans either to refund our great war loans to the Allies or to forgive all or part of the principal of the debts, this is a policy of practical business as well as political wisdom. Neither Congress nor the country would suffer any proposal for the cancellation or the alteration of the war loans without a carefully worked out plan of readjustment of the whole international network of war loans and war indemnities with a view to the more lasting benefit of all, the creditors as well as the debtors, the solvent as well as the bankrupt. To work out anything like that on the right lines might be a matter of years.

But the call for American cooperation in economic and industrial rehabilitation abroad can come any day and does come repeatedly. American finance and American business always can take part in such situations provided they are divorced from the very complex question of the war debts among the allied Governments and our own Government.

This work can go on while the Government war loans are under negotiation and discussion as individual cases. It should go on where there is warrant for it.

And in seeing this whole international situation, complicated as it is, with the clear vision that picks out what is ready for execution and what is not ready, what is now possible of consideration and what is not yet possible, President Harding is exercising the good judgment which has guided him and the country through many troubled waters in the last year and seven months. He is preeminently a Chief Executive of good sense and safe action.

Science And Humor Of The Law Of Balloons

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
Eminent Astronomer and Authority On Subjects Of Scientific Interest

"Please tell me how many cubic feet there would be in a balloon thirteen feet in diameter; what kind of gas has the greatest lifting power, and what would be the lifting capacity of such a balloon filled with such a gas?—John McDonald, Quincy, Mass."

In telling you what you want to know I will also tell you how to find out for yourself. When the balloon is filled with gas it will be practically spherical in shape. What you need to know is the cubic content of a sphere of given diameter.

To calculate that you multiply the cube of the diameter (the diameter multiplied twice by itself) by the constant Pi, which amounts to about 3.14159 (not quite 3 1-7), and divide the product by 6. Applying this we have the cube of 13 equal to 2,197, which multiplied by 3.14159 becomes 6,902, and finally dividing by 6, our answer is 1,150.33—the number of cubic feet in the sphere.

Now for the gas. The lightest gas is pure hydrogen, which weighs about 1-14 as much as air, the precise ratio varying with circumstances. To get the greatest lifting power, then, you should employ hydrogen.

Next, for the actual lifting power of a balloon 13 feet in diameter, filled with hydrogen gas: In the first place you must know this fact, viz., that any body immersed in air is buoyed upward (though it may not be actually lifted) by a force equal to the weight of a quantity of air having the same bulk, or cubic dimension, as the body.

Our balloon, as we found by calculation, contains 1,150.33 cubic feet. Now air weighs, on the average, an ounce and a quarter per cubic foot, so that the 1,150.33 cubic feet of air displaced by the balloon must weigh about 1,438 ounces, or 89⅞ pounds—say, 90 pounds for an even number.

Since the silk of a balloon is very thin, we may call the cubic content of the interior 1,150 cubic feet, which means that the balloon contains that amount of hydrogen. Now, one cubic foot of hydrogen weighs about 0.089 of an ounce, and 1,150 cubic feet would weigh, in round numbers, 102 ounces, or 6⅜ pounds. Subtract this from the 90 pounds representing the force with which the air urges the balloon upward and the remainder, 83⅝ pounds, is the lifting force of the balloon. To know how much it will actually lift, however, you must subtract the weight of the silk bag and other necessary appurtenances.

If you filled your balloon with coal gas, which is eight times as heavy as hydrogen, the lifting power would be diminished to less than 40 pounds.

Because we are confined, except in imagination, to this little earth, we have but a slight practical acquaintance with the possibilities involved in these simple physical laws. Whoever thinks, for instance, of the lifting effect that the air he lives in has upon his own body?

If nature wanted to people a world with inhabitants naturally capable of floating in the air, as she has peopled the earth's waters with floating creatures, all she would have to do would be to make the specific gravity of the land animals less than that of the air—and who can say that she has not done that somewhere among the stars! With proper adjustments she could do it on the earth.

Let us see about this. A man of 150 pounds weighs 2,400 ounces. A cubic foot of air weighs one and a quarter ounces. Then 1,920 cubic feet of air must weigh as much as the man. Suppose now, that nature should make the man so large that his volume would be 1,920 cubic feet, while his specific gravity was changed so that his weight would remain the same as before. Manifestly, the buoyancy of the air would just counterbalance his weight, and if he put on a little fat, the adipose tissue being specificially lighter than the rest of his body, he would gain more in bulk than in weight, and thereupon the buoyancy of the atmosphere would overmaster his gravity and up he would float, gently rocked in the circumambient cradle of the air.

How large would he have to be? Well, if he were 46 feet long, 8 feet broad and 5¼ feet thick he would displace an amount of air weighing 12 pounds more than himself, and so be unable to keep his feet on the ground, except possibly when one of the weather bureau's low pressure areas came over him and let him slump.

Some Delay

There was no doubt about it—he was very angry when he entered the village grocery shop.

"You sold my wife some eggs yesterday, Mr. Peavey," he said.

"Yes," said Mr. Peavey, genially. "I believe I did."

"And you told her that they were fresh eggs."

"Yes; I did."

"But see here, Peavey; you had no business to say they were fresh eggs!"

"Why not? I bought 'em fresh from Sam Wiley."

"I don't believe it. Sam Wiley's an honest man."

"Well, Sam said it all right. He came in here with a basket full of 'em, and put 'em down on the

JAPAN TO CLING TO POST OFFICES IN MANCHURIA

As To Advisors, Tokio Will Meet China's Views Regarding Them

Tokio, Nov. 15.—In the course of yesterday's Cabinet meeting, Count Uchida, Minister of Foreign Affairs, made a statement in the main to the following effect:

"The Chinese Government, with a desire to dismiss its foreign advisers, taking advantage of the expiration of their terms of office, is now sounding the intentions of Great Britain, the United States and Japan.

"As for Japan, I am convinced that she has no objection to the matter.

"Good progress has now been made in the Sino-Japanese negotiations on the question of the withdrawal of Japanese post-offices in China. Meantime, the Chinese Government even demands the withdrawal of the Japanese post-offices in the zone along the South Manchuria Railway.

"Japan, however, has firmly resolved not to grant such a demand on the part of China."

Murder Mystery Fails To Develop

The element of mystery was injected into an assault case at the Mixed Court yesterday when the attorney for the prosecution of six men, Mr. Soong, stated that he was informed a man had been killed in the fracas under consideration and that his body had been spirited away.

The fight occurred in a tea shop at 186 Foochow Road Thursday night and counsel said two witnesses had told of a man being knocked down stairs and killed, his body being then placed in a rickshaw and taken away. During the hearing of testimony, however, no evidence was produced to substantiate this charge and the four defendants who appeared were fined $2 each, the two others forfeiting $5 bail by non-appearance.

REEL PRACTICES

Two more reel practices of the St. Andrew's Society will be held on Nov. 22 and Nov. 27 at the Town Hall prior to the Caledonian Ball on the night of Nov. 30. The Secretary of the St. Andrew's Society requests that members make up their sets as early as possible in order that he may make arrangements accordingly.

Del Monte

To accommodate the large after-the-theater crowd who have been going to the Del Monte Cafe for their famous midnight suppers after the Adele Blood-Tim Frawley performances at the Olympic the Del Monte is making a special effort to put the best of their sensational Russian ballet acts on after midnight.

The ballet, which has been an unusual success at the Del Monte is better than ever this week, and is being enjoyed by large numbers of Shanghailanders and visitors.

Noted Opthalmologist Aids China Physicians With Lecture Course

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Nov. 13.—The class of Fellows in Ophthalmology at the Peking Union Medical College taking a month's intensive course in the diseases of the Eye are now on the third week of their work. A special feature of the instruction being given, and indeed the immediate occasion of the course is the series of lectures and clinical demonstrations by Dr. Ferdinand Fuchs, the eminent eye specialist of Vienna.

Professor Fuchs gives for an hour and a half each day a lecture on the Pathology of the Eye. The discourse is illustrated excellently by the actual specimens in microscope section projected on the silver screen by the powerful microscope baloptican of the medical college. The large and very complete set of slides used are from specimens collected from the clinic in Vienna where Mr. Fuchs has served for more than 40 years.

There is probably no other collection of pathological specimens on the eye anywhere in the world that compares even remotely for completeness with this series now being shown in Peking. It is a source of constant wonder as well as of gratification to the men sitting through the lectures to see almost every conceivable malady of the eye pictured from the actual case.

The physicians taking the course are, with few exceptions, eye surgeons from the mission hospitals in China. They have come for this occasion, two of them from as far away as Canton. Several are from the lower Yangtsze valley and others from points nearer to Peking. These men from the mission hospitals have been granted special fellowships from the China Medical Board, the grant covering their travel to and from Peking. By that means they are enabled to take advantage of this unusual opportunity for adding to their knowledge of this special branch of medical science. Several Chinese physicians, graduates of the Peking school as well as from other schools both in China and abroad are included in the course.

Dr. Harvey J. Howard, professor of Ophthalmology in the Peking Union Medical College, is in charge of instruction and the triweekly operative clinics are conducted by him. He is ably assisted by Dr. Pi, a native of Peking and an early graduate of the local school. This same Dr. Pi as a boy of nine was a refugee in the Legation quarter during the Boxer siege of 1900.

A most interesting feature of the eye work in the Peking hospital is the large trachoma clinic held twice a week. The trachoma work is well arranged, each patient after having his cocaine drops files in and, seated in one of the treatment chairs, receives his treatment, after which a soothing ice cold bandage is put over both eyes and he is led back to his seat in the corridor. The cold of the iced bandage very soon enables him to open his eyes and take himself home.

Patients both Chinese and foreign have come from distant points to take advantage of the visit of Dr. Fuchs. Some of them have brought most interesting and complicated eye conditions seeking advice or operation; they have come from Nanking, Chefoo and other distant places.

Professor Fuchs, though venerably white bearded and somewhat stooped, perhaps more from his lifelong habit of bending over the microscope than as a result of his seventy-odd years, is still very active and vigorous. Recently a party from the class made a Saturday afternoon tour of the Summer Palace and one has it from the younger men of the group that they were all put to it to keep pace with the aged professor as he walked the long corridors and climbed the endless marble stairs or hastened along the paved walks over Peony Hill.

Upon the close of his lectures in Peking Dr. Fuchs expects to go by rail to Hankow for a brief visit. From there he will go down the Yangtsze to Nanking and Shanghai, later going to Hongkong and Canton. He is in China at the invitation of the China Medical Board and for the month is officially visiting Professor of Opathalmology in the Peking Union Medical College.

Chinese Eastern Ry. Has Good Year, Says Report

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 14.—The annual report of the Chinese Eastern Railway for the year 1921, as submitted to the recent meeting of shareholders contains a mass of figures relating to rolling stock, transportation of passengers and goods, operating revenue and expenditure, supplementary enterprises, etc. and explanatory comment of which the following are extracts:

The commercial activity in the year 1921 was carried on in complete isolation of the railway, owing to the absence of through traffic from Russia, and attention had to be directed to increase of export and transportation in local traffic.

BASIS OF POLICY

The principles on which the tariff policy was based were.

1.—Adaptation of the tariff to the general fall of prices in the world markets since 1920.

2.—Assistance of the tariffs to various sound branches of industry in North Manchuria affected by the general crises since 1920.

3.—Efforts to attract to the railway goods that prior to 1921 had been transported by carts.

4.—Creation of favorable conditions for the export of Manchurian produce to Vladivostok as in the case of those sent Southwards.

This measures as a whole showed increased transportation as can be seen by the following returns of goods traffic: 1920,102,286,613 poods 1921,126,149,527, poods. Increase 23,862,914 poods.

At present, in accordance with the economic conditions existing in Manchuria and the changes in the railway itself, a radical revision and modification of all tariffs and local traffic has been started on the basis of commercial exploitation of the railway. Special attention is being paid to the need for the tariffs to be simplified. In order to make the new tariffs accessible to the numerous Chinese clients this will be published in Chinese.

IMPROVEMENTS

The work of the railway from a technical point of view can be considered wholly satisfactory. The improvements in passenger and goods transportation are shown in the following summary:

The speed of passenger and goods trains has increased. The yearly running of locomotive and conductor brigades has increased. The number of delays has considerably diminished. The utilisation of traction power of locomotives and the capacity of goods cars in comparison with 1920 has increased. The consumption of fuel has decreased. The productiveness of workshops and repairing shop has increased. Accidents have diminished.

Moreover, better results have been obtained regarding order, cleanliness, and the convenience of passengers at stations and in trains. Among much big technical work done in the year mention may be made of the excavation of a canal for the restoration of the mooring line on the Sungari River at Harbin-Pristen by strengthening the banks and the river regulation works, development of branch lines at the Harbin junctions and Eguersheld at Vladivostok and the construction of receiving dead-end sidings in order to avert accidents in mountain sections, metalling of the South Section. Construction of cisterns for bean oil at Eguersheld, development and improvement of the principal workshops at Harbin and of the electric light system at Harbin.

208 Miles An Hour His Record; Then He Lands Upside Down

(British Press Service)

Etampes, France, Nov. 1.—In the contest for the Deutsch de la Meurthe Aviation Cup, which opened here this morning, M. Sadi Lecointe covered the first 100 kilometers in 18 min. 26 sec., beating the world's record for that distance and achieving the amazing average speed of 325 kilometers (about 208 miles) per hour. He made a wonderful turn as he began his second circuit of the course, but at that moment his engine showed signs of giving out and he made for the aerodrome, turning a complete somersault in landing, with the wheels in the air. The spectators were horrified, but he had not suffered so much as a scratch.

The cup was won by Lasne, who covered 300 kilometres at the rate of over 289 kilometres an hour. Herbert James, on his Camel, covered 100 kilometres at a speed of 210 miles an hour, but he had to abandon the contest.

SHENSI FARMERS STRIKE AGAINST TROOPS DEMANDS

(China Press Correspondence)

Pinchow, Shensi, Nov. 3.—Within the last few years, and especially during the time that chieftain Kohchinpang has held sway in military affairs in this district, considerable trouble has occured. The unruly soldiers have been sent to their homes to enforce the demands of the magistrate for feed for the army's horses, flour and opium and clothing for the men, and scores of other demands for money. Taking of captives by the robber bands in the mountains; so called raids on the robbers by the soldiers who were really leagued with them for half of the spoils; sieging of the city because of some personal hate between two militarists; the common soldiers in silk and the people in rags; doors, chairs, home furniture taken out of every home rich and poor alike for the soldiers to burn up and break to pieces; continuous demands for money from the merchants so that the majority of the shops had to close up; the people running away from the district because they could not pay what was demanded of them; and finally to nicely wind up the whole story a clash between the newly come Kansu men and the departing rear ranks of Kohchinpang resulting in the loss of many lives. Your correspondent by speaking peace all night helped to settle the matter. Such is in short the history of two years of militarist rule in Pinchow.

KANSU TROOPS BETTER

While as a whole conditions are a little better since the Kansu troops took charge of the city a few months ago, yet the people are less able to meet the demands asked of them than ever before because the cost of living has soared skyhigh. Not in many years have prices been so high on wheat, which fact promise nothing good for the coming winter.

The people in this section of the country do not as a rule privately own arms or have any weapon of defense in their homes. This probably accounts in some small measure for the tyrrany they are made to endure at the hands of a few so called soldiers who point their guns at whoever they please. To show that they are unable to bear the burden that is put on them in these hard times the farmers have resorted to carrying their farm implements to the magistrate all at once and by the thousands.

HAPPENED TWICE BEFORE

Twice this year this has happened within the district. The farmers mean to show by more than words that they are bankrupt and that they have to quit being loyal and law abiding citizens and are made to resort to other means of livelihood if the magistrate refuses to ease their burdens. Only yesterday evening from about forty li away two thousand people came with their farm implements and were not far from the city when the mandarin by some messengers promised to concede to demands, and persuaded them to return to their homes. The time before that this happened there was bloodshed as the farmers began to hack the soldiers with their hoes and they in turn began to shoot in self-defense, until the officer went out and on his knees began to beg the strikers for peace and promised not to ill treat them any more.

TELLS ITALY TO START PAYING AMERICAN DEBT

Mussolini Says It Is Time To Stop Talking And Begin To Act

(China Press Service)

Rome, Nov. 13.—Mussolini in an address to parliament today said that "Nothing but good has been said about the United States. One always speaks well of their creditors, and we all owe America money.

"It is time to cease speaking well only, and to start showing our better by acting to the extent of paying them back some of our just debts."

Mussolini said that he hoped in the space of a few months time to be able to achieve closer economic relations with the United States, which would be beneficial to both the U. S. and Italy.

He believed, he said, that the policy of America towards Italian immigrants might be greatly improved, and intends to take steps to have it done.

NEW EXCHANGE GAME FAILS TO GO IN NINGPO

Police Send Foreigners To Shanghai For Trial On Larceny Charge

(China Press Correspondence)

Ningpo, Nov. 11.—According to local papers three foreigners, supposed to be Persians and carrying French passports, have been arrested by the Ningpo police on a charge of attempting to trick a local bank out of $800 in currency.

The three men who claimed to be promoters of a theatrical company entered a money shop and threw down a $100 bill to be exchanged. The clerk gave them ten $10 bills which they refused and then they asked for dollar bills. While the exchange was being made two of the men went in behind the counter. The man who was exchanging money asked to be allowed to choose his bills. This he was permitted to do.

While he was thus engaged the proprietor became suspicious and ordered the clerk to count the bills. It was discovered that $800 was missing. The clerk seized hold of the foreigner and in the melee, it is claimed by the police, $500 in bills slipped out of his sleeve to the floor. The other $300 also was recovered.

The three men were then turned over to the police who detained them over night. They are now being sent to Shanghai by the authorities, to be turned over to the French Consul.

It was stated later by the police that the same men had been to Taiki, a city on the railway near by, and had worked a similar game on a bank there, getting away with $200.

YUAN'S CHAIR IS RESURRECTED FOR THE 'BOY EMPEROR'

Censor Finds Old Sedan Is Billed As New By The Palace Retainers

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, Nov. 10.—That the gentle art of "squeeze" is still practiced even in the Imperial Household is borne out by a tale, which is said to be veracious, by those close to the censorate.

In the days of Yuan Shih-kai's aspirations, the late ruler of China had himself a sedan chair built such as would be fitting for what he hoped to be, the Emperor of China. His plans crashed and he died and the gorgeous chair was kept in the Palace as a relic.

With the shades of the coming marriage of the "Boy Emperor" it was necessary to have a similar chair built for the occasion and the Imperial Bureau of Ceremony and Rites was instructed to have it made. The order was apparently executed and a bill for an exceedingly fat sum presented.

Several days ago one of the overcautious Impeiral Censors ran upon the track of the old Yuan Shih-kai chair and the order for the new one. By some trick of fate he discovered that they were one and the same and that the sum charged for a new one, less a small fraction for renovating the old one, had gone into the pockets of certain retainers. As usual in such cases, an investigation is said to be going on.

Australian 'Phones Equipped With Radio

(China Press Service)

Sydney, N.S.W., Nov. 15.—The importation of a large number of wireless receiving sets for the setting up of a service especially for country residents, has been arranged by the Australian Wireless company. The sets will be rented to subscribers on the same system as telephone instruments.

Farmers in the country and suburban residents will be supplied regularly with concerts, weather reports, market reports and other general information.

313 Ships Traverse Panama Canal In Month; New Record

(China Press Service)

Panama, Nov. 15.—Official records show that during October, 313 ships, aggregating 1,944,412 net tons of shipping passed through the Panama Canal, setting a new high record.

The highest previous record was in January 1921, when 279 vessels were passed. October's record includes 36 ships making their first trip through.
